Sec. 2482. The following provisions shall constitute a part of the charter of every corporation, other than railroad and banking corporations, already in existence under the Act of Assembly in this State, either general or special, passed since the adoption of the Constitution of 1868, or which may be at any time hereafter created under or by virtue of any Act of Assembly, general or special, to wit:

(A) The stockholders of all insolvent corporations other than banks and banking institutions, whether heretofore or hereafter incorporated under the Acts of the General Assembly of this State, either general or special, shall be individually liable to the creditors thereof only to the extent of the amount remaining due to the corporation upon the stock owned by them: And provided, further, That persons holding stock in such companies as trustee or executor, administrator, or by way of collateral security, shall not be personally subject to the liabilities of stockholders under the foregoing provisions, but the persons pledging such stock shall be liable to the creditors, and the estates and funds in the hands of such executors or administrators shall be liable in their hands in like manner and to the same extent as the deceased testator or intestate, or the ward or person interested in said trust estate would have been if they had respectively been living and competent to act and hold the stock in their own names.

Newton Cotton Mills v. Springs, 56 S. C., 534; 35 S. E., 222; Sadler v. Nicholson, 49 S. C., 7; 26 S. E., 898.

The liability of stockholders in insolvent corporations since the adoption of the Constitution of 1895, is governed by Article IX, Section 18 of the Constitution, which see.—Union Bank v. Wando Co., 17 S. C., 340; Bird v. Calvert, 22 S. C., 292; Hall v. Klinck, 25 S. C., 348; Parker v. Carolina Savings Bank, 53 S. C., 583; 31 S. E., 673. In order to reduce their liability to that prescribed in the Constitution of 1895, a corporation existing at the time of the adoption of that Constitution must surrender its old, and secure a new charter, as prescribed in Section 1907.—Lauraglen Mills v. Ruff, 52 S. C., 448; 30 S. E., 586. The stockholder is not entitled to set off a claim against the corporation against such liability.—Lauraglen Mills v. Ruff, 52 S. C., 53; 35 S. E., 887; Fird v. Piedmont Land Co., 55 S. C., 78; 32 S. E., 758. This liability includes damages from personal injuries.—Flenniken v. Marshall, 48 S. C., 80; 20 S. E., 788; see also Bank v. Blake, 3 Rich. Eq. 225, for liability under statute similar to new Constitution.

Such corporations shall have power to purchase and hold real estate as may be required for their purposes, and as they may be obliged or may deem for their interest in the settlement of any debts due them, and may dispose of the same; to sue and be sued in all courts to have and to use a common seal; to elect, in such manner as they may determine to be proper, all necessary officers and fix their duties; to make by-laws and regulations consistent with the Constitution and laws of this State for the good government and the due and orderly conduct of their affairs, and the management of their property.

The shares in the capital stock of such corporations shall be deemed personal estate, except in the case of manufacturing companies, the stock in which shall be deemed real estate as stated in Section 2500, and the mode of issuing and sale of stock, and the manner, terms and conditions governing and transferring shares, shall be prescribed by the laws of each corporation.

The vote of two-thirds of the stock of the corporation shall be necessary to make an increase, which increase may be so made to any amount, not exceeding the maximum amount stated in the said notice of the meeting of stockholders. The Board of Directors shall certify the resolution of the stockholders to the Secretary of State, and that all the requirements of this Section as to such increase of capital stock have been complied with. In case the corporation so increasing its capital stock is incorporated under a general law, the Board of Directors shall likewise return to the Secretary of State the original charter or certificate of incorporation for the endorsement herein mentioned. The Secretary of State shall thereupon record the said certificate of the Board of Directors, and shall likewise endorse upon the charter or certificate of incorporation a certificate of the increase of the capital stock, and shall forthwith return the charter or certificate of incorporation with such endorsement thereon to the Board of Directors; and in cases where the law under which such corporation is created or organized, requires the charter or certificate of incorporation to be recorded in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyance or Clerk of Court, the certificate of such increase of the capital stock, endorsed by the Secretary of State on the charter or certificate of incorporation, as hereinbefore required, shall be recorded across the face of the record of the charter or certificate of the incorporation in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances or Clerk of Court, where the charter or certificate of the incorporation is required to be recorded, and the increase of the capital stock of such corporation shall be authorized when the certificate is lodged for record in said office. But in cases where the corporation has been created or organized under a special Act of the Legislature, or where such corporation has been created or organized under a general law and its charter has been amended by a special Act, the Secretary of State, upon receipt of the certificate of the Board of Directors, of the resolution of the stockholders aforesaid, and that all the requirements of this Section have been complied with as aforesaid, shall forthwith issue to said corporation a certificate of the increase of tal stock, which certificate shall be recorded in the the Register of Mesne Conveyances or of the Clerk Court of the County in which said corporation has principal place of business; and the increase of the capital of such corporation shall be authorized when such certificate is lodged for record in said office. In cases where capital stock is increased as by this Section provided, stockholder or stockholders thereof registered on the books of said corporation at the time when such increase shall be authorized, shall have the preference of such increase of stock in proportion to the amount of stock he, she or they may then own; but if such stockholder or stockholders shall not avail himself, herself or herself of such privilege within ten days after the certificate is lodged for record of such certificate of increase of the capital stock, the Board of Directors may dispose of the increased capital stock as they may deem best at its value in money or property.

2491. Decrease of capital stock. (a) When, in the event of the Board of Directors of any corporation mentioned in Section 2490, the actual capital stock of such corporation has from any cause been impaired and is less than the value of the shares representing the same, in such event the nominal capital may be reduced to what, in the event of the Board of Directors, is the actual value of the capital stock of the corporation. When the capital is thus reduced, the outstanding certificates shall be called in, and the certificates of the reduced capital apportioned among the stockholders according to their respective holdings: Provided, however, That such reduction shall in no way impair the liability of the stockholders to creditors upon claims existing against the corporation existing at the time of such reduction. reduce its capital to a given amount, and to distribute among its stockholders its capital in excess of such amount. In such case the outstanding certificates shall be called in, and the surplus capital and certificates for the reduced stock shall be apportioned among the stockholders according to their respective holdings. (c) The following provisions shall govern a reduction of capital in either of the cases mentioned: Should any stockholder or stockholders fail to surrender his, her or their certificate or certificates for conversion into certificates of the reduced stock, such certificate or certificates shall after such reduction represent only the amount of stock in the reduced capital to which the holder or holders would be entitled. Should the interest of any stockholder require the issue of a fractional part of a share, such fractional part of a share may be embodied in a certificate for one or more full shares, or, when necessary, a separate certificate issued therefor. Whenever, by resolution of the Board of Directors, a reduction of capital stock is determined upon, a meeting of the stockholders shall be called to consider such resolution by a notice published at least once a week for four successive weeks previous to the date fixed in such notice for such meeting, in some newspaper published in the County where the corporation has its principal place of business, which notice shall state the time and place of meeting, the purpose for which it is called, and the minimum amount to which it is proposed that the capital shall be reduced. The vote of two-thirds of the stock shall be necessary to make a reduction, which reduction may be made to any amount, not less than the amount stated in the said notice of the meeting of stockholders. The Board of Directors shall certify the resolution of the stockholders to the Secretary of State, and that all the requirements of this Chapter in relation to such decrease of capital stock have been complied with; and where capital is to be distributed, shall further certify that the corporation owes no debts. In case the corporation so decreasing its capital stock is incorporated under a general law, the Board of Directors shall likewise return to the Secretary of State the original charter or certificate of incorporation for the endorsement herein mentioned; the Secretary of State shall thereupon record the said certificates of the Board of s, and shall likewise endorse upon the charter or certificate of incorporation a certificate of the decrease or reduction of capital stock, and shall forthwith return the original or certificate of incorporation, with such endorsement, to the Board of Directors; and in cases where a corporation is created or organized under which such corporation is created or organized requires the charter or certificate of incorporation to be recorded in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances or Clerk of Court, the certificate of such decrease or reduction of capital stock, endorsed by the Secretary of State, shall be recorded across the face of the charter or certificate of incorporation in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances or Clerk of Court where the charter or certificate of incorporation is to be recorded; and such decrease or reduction of capital stock shall be authorized when the certificate is for record in said office. But in cases where the corporation has been created or organized under a general Act, and its charter has been amended by a special Act, the Secretary of State, upon the receipt of the certificate of the Board of Directors of the resolution of the stockholders aforesaid, and that the requirements of this Chapter have been complied with in relation to such decrease or reduction of capital stock, shall forthwith issue to said corporation a certificate of such decrease or reduction of capital stock, which certificate shall be recorded in the office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances or the Clerk of the County in which said corporation has its principal place of business; and the said decrease or reduction of capital stock shall be authorized when such certificate is for record in said office. For the services required by this Section of this Chapter there shall be paid to the Secretary of State a fee of five dollars, which shall be paid by the certificate of the Board of Directors.

2852. The said Railroad Commissioners are hereby authorized and required to make for each of the railroad companies doing business in this State, as soon as practicable a schedule of just and reasonable rates of charges for transportation of passengers and freight and cars on all of said railroads, and said schedule shall, in suits brought against any such railroad corporations wherein involved the charges of any such railroad corporation for transportation of any passenger or freight or cars, constitute just discrimination in relation thereto, be deemed sufficient evidence in all of the Courts of this State as sufficient evidence of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight and cars upon the railroads; and said Commissioners shall from time to time, and as often as circumstances require, change and revise said schedule. When any change shall have been made or revised it shall be the duty of all such railroad companies to post at all their principal stations a copy of said schedule for the protection of the people: Provided, That the schedules thus prepared shall not be taken as evidence as herein provided unless the schedules have been prepared and published as aforesaid by all the railroad companies now organized under the laws of this State or that may be organized at the time of the publication. All such schedules purporting to be prepared and published as aforesaid shall be received and shall prevail in all such suits as prima facie the schedules of said Commissioners without further proof than the production of the schedule desired to be used as evidence, with a certificate of the Railroad Commission that the same is a true and correct copy of the schedule prepared by them for the railroad company or corporation therein named, and that the same has been duly published as required by law: Provided, That the railroad company shall first be given notice of any change or revision of the schedule and shall first be given to the railroad company to be made before the same shall go into effect.

Any railroad corporation which shall fail to post at any of its principal stations a copy of the schedule of rates as provided in this Section, shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each and every day in which it shall fail to post the schedule, to be recovered by any citizens who will sue

Sec. 2853. Power is hereby conferred on the Railroad Commission of South Carolina, and they are required to fix and prescribe a schedule of maximum rates and charges for storage of freight made and charged by railroad companies doing business in this State, and to fix at what time after the reception of freight at place of destination such charges of storage shall begin, with power to vary the same according to the value and character of the freight stored, the nature of the place of destination, and residence of consignee, and such other facts as in their judgment should be considered in fixing the same.

All the provisions of the Act creating said Railroad Commission, and Acts amendatory thereof, prescribing the procedure of said Commission in fixing freight and passenger tariffs, and hearing complaints of carriers and shippers, and of altering and amending said tariffs, shall apply to the subject of fixing and amending rates and charges for storage, as aforesaid.

Sec. 2855. If any railroad company shall violate the provisions of Section 2854, either by exceeding the rates of storage prescribed, or by discriminating, as aforesaid, the person or persons so paying such overcharge, or subject to such discrimination, shall have the right to sue for the same in any Court of this State having jurisdiction of the claim, and shall have all the remedies, and be entitled to recover the same penalties and measures of damages as is prescribed in the case of overcharge of freight rates, upon making like demand as is prescribed in such case, and after like failure to pay the same.

Civ. '02, § 2100.

Sec. 2860. In the construction of the three preceding Sections, the term railroad company chartered by this State shall be held to mean each railroad company holding its franchise under a separate charter granted by this State: and no ownership or shares of the capital stock of one corporation by another corporation, nor any lease, contract or other agreement between corporations or individuals shall operate as a bar to the provisions of this Chapter: but each corporation so chartered shall deal with all its connections at any one point on the same terms, and shall afford the like usual facilities for the interchange of freight between all of its connections at the same point; and any contract, combination, joint ownership or joint management contrary to the provisions of this Article shall be null, void and of no effect.

road; and any failure to do so, with reasonable diligence shall render the railroad company so failing liable to the owner or consignee for all damages that may result therefrom with interest and all costs and disbursements. It shall be the duty of the defendant in any suit brought under this Section to set up as a defense that the plaintiff has accepted a rebate or practiced fraud or deception touching the rate, and it shall be a complete reply to such defense if the plaintiff prove that defendant or its agents has allowed a rebate or practiced like fraud or deception, from the competing points against the rival line.

2862. If any person, firm or corporation shall have been authorized to deliver to any other person, firm or corporation within this State certain commodities, no common carrier doing business in this State, over whose road such commodities would be transported before delivery to the consignee, shall interfere with the fulfillment of such contract between such shipper of freight and the consignee; nor shall undertake to control or direct, nor in any wise interfere with, the shipment of such commodities by the party or parties who has contracted for the same. To this end no common carrier doing business in this State, over whose road such commodities pass in transportation before delivery to the consignee in this State, when furnishing cars to the shippers shall have the right to designate to what consignees loaded in such cars shall be consigned, or in any way interfere with or seek to control the use of such cars by the shipper in making shipment to such consignees as he may desire to ship to, or be under contract to ship to.

Liability as to negligence.—Proctor v. So. Ry. Co., 61 S. C., 170; 39 S. E.,

The remedy given is cumulative and does not supersede the remedy at common law.—Kaminitsky v. R. R., 25 S. C., 53; Spires v. R. R. Co., 47 S. C., 24 S. E., 992; Burns v. Ry. Co., 61 S. C., 404; 39 S. E., 567.

Under the statute there must be an actual collision.—Kinard v. R. R. Co., 51 S. C., 517; 18 S. E., 119. "At the crossing" or "on the crossing," which must be a traveled place.—Hutto v. S. B. R. R. One attempting to cross between cars standing at the crossing is within the statute.—Littlejohn v. Ry. Co., 49 S. C., 12; 18 S. E., 967.

It is not an action at common law such as Murray v. R. R. Co., 10 Rich. 27, on the question of negligence failure to give the statutory signals at crossing near the place of injury may be shown in evidence.—Mack v. R. R. Co., 52 S. C., 323; 29 S. The omission to give the statutory signal need not be the proximate or efficient cause of the injury, the company is liable if it contributes in any way thereto.—Wragg v. R. R. Co., 47 S. C., 105; 25 S. E., 76; Strother v. R. R. Co., 47 S. C., 375; 25 S. E., 272. See Duncan v. Greenville Co., 73 S. C., 256; 53 S. E., 367.

In order to bar recovery the gross or wilful negligence of the plaintiff must be a proximate or efficient cause.—Bowen v. Ry. Co., 58 S. C., 222; 36 S. E., 590; Cooper v. Ry. Co., 56 S. C., 91; 34 S. E., 16. And the burden of proof to show this gross negligence of plaintiff is on the defendant.—Nohrden v. R. R. Co., 59 S. C., 100; 37 S. E., 228; Petrie v. R. R. Co., 29 S. E., 319; 18 S. E., 515.

Section 2968. Whenever any person or corporation shall be authorized by charter to construct a railway, canal or turnpike in this State, such person or corporation, before entering upon any lands for the purpose of construction, shall give the owner thereof (if he be sui juris) notice, in writing, that the right of way over said lands is required for such purpose, which notice shall be given at least thirty days before entering upon said lands; and such notice shall be served upon such owner in the same manner as may be required by law for the service of the summons in civil actions. If the owner shall not, within the period of thirty days after service of said notice, signify, in writing, his refusal or consent, it shall be presumed that such consent is given; and such person or corporation may, thereupon, enter upon said lands; but the owner of said lands may move for an assessment of compensation in the manner hereinafter directed.

This statute, Secs. 2968 to 2977, affords no remedy to determine the right of the owner to demand compensation; hence where that is denied, he must bring his action at law.—*Cureton v. S. B. R. R. This remedy includes all other remedies for compensation, and is exclusive as to those cases falling within its provisions.—McLaughlin v. R. R. Co., 5 Rich., 597; *Miller v. Remaindermen are owners within the meaning of the Constitution, Art. I, c. 17, and where they refused consent to entry, and the company entered, without condemning the right of way, under deed from the life tenant, the remaindermen may bring an action at common law, after the falling in of the life estate to recover compensation.—*Cureton v. Civ. '02, §

Sec. 2969. If the owner of said lands shall signify his refusal of consent to entry thereon without previous compensation, or shall remain silent in reference thereto, the person or corporation requiring such right of way shall apply, by petition, to the Judge of the Circuit wherein such lands are situated, for the empanelling of a jury to ascertain the amount which shall be paid as just compensation for the right of way required, in which petition shall be set forth a description of the lands, the names of the owner, the purposes for which the lands are required, and such other facts as may be deemed material. On the hearing of such petition the Circuit Judge shall order the same to be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas for said County, and shall further order the said Clerk to empanel a jury of twelve to ascertain the compensation for the use of the lands required. The Clerk, immediately on receiving such order, must give to the owner of the lands notice thereof, in writing, and of the day which shall be assigned. On the day assigned, the Clerk, in the presence of the parties, if they shall attend, shall select the names of twenty-four disinterested freeholders of the County, and shall draw therefrom the names of twelve to act as jurors, and shall cause those so drawn to be forthwith summoned to meet, at such place and at such time as he may assign, for the purpose of examining the said lands and ascertaining the compensation to be made for the right of way over the same. It shall further be the duty of said Clerk, in person or by his deputy, to attend at the same time and place for the purpose of organizing the jury; and he shall have power to summon from the vicinage other disinterested freeholders to act as jurors in the stead of any of those first summoned, who shall fail to attend or who shall be objected to by either party on the ground of disqualification on account of interest.

Powers of Circuit Judge are judicial, not ministerial; he may exercise common law powers in the execution of his duties.—State v. R. R. Co., 1 S. C., 46. Though description of land in petition be insufficient, the Judge has jurisdiction to empanel, a jury.—Ex parte Bennett, 26 S. C., 317; 2 S. E., 389; ex parte Bacot, 36 S. C., 125; 15 S. E., 204. Does not require service of the petition upon parties in interest.—Ex parte Bacot, 36 S. C., 125; 15 S. E., 204.

Sec. 2970. In all cases where the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas shall be the owner of any lands over which it is sought to obtain a right of way in such County, or shall hold the legal title thereof as trustee, guardian or committee, or have any other interest therein, the proceedings for obtaining the right of way through such lands shall be had as provided in Section 2969 hereof, except that the Judge of Probate for such County shall be substituted for the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas and shall assume all of the duties of the Clerk contained in Section 2969 and the following Sections of said chapter.

It shall be the duty of the Clerk of said Court, upon the filing of said petition, to issue summons, directed to said railroad or railway company, which, with a copy of said petition, shall be served upon the same, by serving it upon any agent in said County, as other civil process is by law authorized to be served upon railroad or railway companies in this State; and the Clerk shall docket said cause, which shall be tried at the next ensuing term of said Court, as other civil causes are tried; except that the Court shall first hear proof of the allegations of said peti-

The Court shall give to the jury the written form of the verdict, leaving blank only the amount of damages; which verdict, with the judgment of the Court thereon, shall be entered as other judgments of said Court. The judgment of the Court shall authorize the petitioner, upon the payment of the amount of the verdict to said defendant, or to the Clerk of said Court, in respect to the order of said defendant, to construct, maintain and operate its lines in the manner set out in its petition, and not otherwise.

No parol lease valid for more than one year.

Civ. '02, § 2416.

From the Statutes and the decisions interpreting them the following principles may be deduced: (1) A parol lease gives a tenant a right of possession for a term of twelve months from the time of entering on the premises. If the lease is for a term less than 12 months, of course, the tenant would only be entitled to hold possession for the time stipulated after entering into possession of the premises. (2) A parol lease undertaking to give a tenant a right of possession for a longer term than twelve months is within the Statute of Frauds. Nevertheless, if the tenant is permitted to enter on the premises by virtue of such agreement, he shall have a right of possession for

A. D. 1912.

12 months from the time of such entry, but no longer. (3) A parol lease under which the tenant enters upon the premises shall, after the term of 12 months from the time of entering on the premises, have the effect of an estate at will only. (4) If a landlord refuses to permit a tenant to enter on the premises under a parol lease, no action shall be brought to charge him upon such contract, even if the lease is not for a term exceeding 12 months.—Hillhouse v. Jennings, 60 S. C., 392; 38 S. E., 599.

Such parol leases have been held valid for certain purposes in above case of Hillhouse v. Jennings, and also in Davis v. Pollock, 36 S. C., 544; 15 S. E., 718; Godard's Exors. v. R. R., 2 Rich. Law., 349; McDonald v. Elfe, 1 N. & McC., 501; Clark v. Bynum, 3 McC., 298. But it does not give right to possession against landlord or any person claiming under him after the first year.—State v. Mays, 24 S. C., 195.

If a tenant under a parol lease for a year simply continues in possession after termination of lease, he may be tenant at will, or a tenant from year to year according to circumstances.—Matthew v. Hipp, 66 S. C., 162; 44 S. E., 577.

Sec. 3177. It shall and may be lawful to and for any landlord or landlords, where the agreement is not by deed, to recover a reasonable satisfaction for the lands, tenements, or hereditaments held or occupied by a tenant or tenants, in an action for the use and occupation of what was so held or enjoyed; and if, in evidence on the trial of such action, any parol demise, or any agreement (not being by deed) whereon a certain rent was reserved, shall appear, the plaintiff in such action shall not therefor be non-suited, but may make use thereof as an evidence of the amount of the damages to be recovered.

Plaintiff need show no further title than that defendant holds under lease from him.—Moorehead v. Barrett, Chev., 99. But defendant may show title in another, if lessor declared he would not claim rent if title was in another.—Woods v. Chambers, 3 Rich., 150. It is good defense to such action that the defendant has been deprived of the beneficial enjoyment of the premises.—Coogen v. Parker, 2 S. C., 255.

Sec. 3178. If any tenant holding any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or where the rent reserved shall be full three-fourths of the yearly value of the demised premises, who shall be in arrear for one year's rent, shall desert the demised premises, and leave the same uncultivated or unoccupied, it shall and may be lawful to and for two or more Magistrates of the County, (having no interest in the demised premises,) at the request of the lessor or landlord or his, her, or their bailiff or receiver, to go upon and view the same, and to affix, or cause to be affixed, on the most notorious part of the premises, notice in writing, which shall be

Tenant justified in quitting when landlord's title has been sold under execution by the Sheriff.—Holmes v. McMaster, 1 Rich. Eq., 340.

Sec. 3179. If, upon such second view, the tenant, or some person on his or her behalf, shall not appear and pay the rent in arrear, then the said Magistrates may put the landlord or landlords, lessor or lessors, into the possession of the said demised premises; and the lease thereof to such tenant, as to any demise therein contained only, shall from thenceforth become void.

Ejectment of tenant for non-payment of arrears of rent.

Civ. '02, § 2419.

Sec. 3180. Such proceedings of the said Magistrates shall be examinable in a summary way by the Courts of Common Pleas of the respective Counties in which such lands or premises lie, which Courts are empowered to order restitution to be made to such tenant, together with his or her expenses and costs, to be paid by the lessor or landlord, if they shall see cause for the same; and, in case they shall affirm the act of the said Magistrates to award costs, not exceeding twenty-five dollars, for the frivolous appeal.

Tenant may appeal.

Civ. '02, § 2420.

Sec. 3181. On the determination of any lease, in writing or by parol, of any lands and tenements within this State when the lessee shall hold over thereafter, any two Magistrates in the County where the same may be situated, are authorized and required, on the complaint and due proof thereof by any lessor, his heirs or assigns, to place the names of twenty-four neighboring persons, qualified by law to serve as jurors, in a box, and from them draw the names of eighteen, and shall thereupon issue their warrant, in the nature of a summons, directed to the Sheriff or any Constable of the County, commanding such officer to summon the said eighteen persons to attend at a certain place, within four days, and at a place appointed; and from the said eighteen qualified jurors so summoned, twelve shall be drawn in the same manner, who shall be empanelled to try the facts: Provided, That if, from the said eighteen so summoned, the number of twelve cannot, from any cause, be had, the Magistrates are authorized to complete the number from the remaining originally selected. And the said Magistrates shall also summon the said lessee, or any other person claiming or coming into possession under him, at the same time, and in the same way, likewise to appear before them to show cause, if any such lessee or other person may have, why possession of the premises should not be forthwith restored to such lessor, his heirs or assigns; and if, upon hearing the case, the jury shall be satisfied that the complainant is entitled to the possession of the premises in question, they shall so find; whereof the Magistrates shall make a record, and shall thereupon issue their warrant, directed to the Sheriff of the County wherein the lands are situated, commanding him forthwith to deliver to such lessor, his heirs or assigns, full possession of the premises, and to levy all expenses incurred, of the goods and chattels of the lessee, or the person in possession as aforesaid.

No previous demand for possession is required.—Keller v. Pagan, 54 S. C., 255; 32 S. E., 355.

No notice to quit necessary, as originally required by Act 1812.—Davis v. Carew, 1 Rich., 275. The jurisdiction under this Section is exclusive and final.—Leonard v. McCool, 3 Strob. Eq., 44; Moultrie v. Dixon, 26 S. C., 296; 2 S. E., 24. But Superior Court may, under proper proceeding, decide whether the inferior tribunal had jurisdiction.—Fallin v. Coogan, 12 Rich., 44. Landlord has no right to take the law into his own hands and eject such tenant without legal process.—Sharp v. Kinsman, 18 S. C., 108. Lease may be determined by agreement of forfeiture for non-payment of rent.—Fallin v. Coogan, 12 Rich., 44. The Acts of 1808 and 1817 have not altered the common rule of three months' notice to quit in tenancy from year to year.—Godard v. R. R. Co., 2 Rich., 346. The summons must show upon its face the allegations necessary to give this jurisdiction.—State v. Latimer, 26 S. C., 208; 2 S. E., 1. Party in possession declining to lease from purchaser of the lands or to surrender possession, Magistrates have no jurisdiction hereunder to eject him.—b. Sheriff bound to obey the warrant.—State v. Black, 34 S. C., 194; 13 S. E., 361.

Ejectment of

2422.

Sec. 3182. When any person or persons have gone, or shall hereafter go, into possession of any land or tenement of another, either as a tenant at will, or under a contract to serve another, either as a domestic servant or common laborer, or otherwise, and shall refuse or neglect to quit the premises so occupied, when required by the person letting the same, or upon the termination of the contract, either by its own limitation or from any other cause, it shall be lawful for the person letting the premises to apply to any Magistrate, whose duty it shall be to have a notice served upon the person or persons so refusing to quit, to show cause before him, at the expiration of ten days from the personal service of such notice, why he should not be ejected: and if no sufficient cause be then shown, it shall be the duty of the Magistrate forthwith to issue his warrant, directed to the Sheriff or any Constable, requiring him, without delay, to eject such person or persons from the premises so let, and authorizing him to use such force as may be necessary.

Magistrate has jurisdiction to determine whether as a fact the relations of landlord and tenant exists; and if so, whether of the character required; and his conclusion, though erroneous, is no ground for prohibition by Superior Court.—State v. Flickling, 10 S. C., 301; Morris v. Palmer, 44 S. C., 562; 22 S. E., 726. But such interference will be made when it appears that the issue was not within jurisdiction of Magistrate.—Baldwin v. Cooley, 1 S. C., 256; State v. Flickling, 10 S. C., 301. Findings of fact by Magistrate are final and cannot be reviewed under any process.—State v. Fort, 24 S. C., 510. But where the character of the tenancy depends upon a written instrument and the Magistrate construes it as not creating a tenancy at will, the Superior Court, upon contrary construction, will, upon proper proceedings, restrain his order.—Id. Where tenant leases land for a year, but continues possession for two years longer, it is not tenancy at will, and Magistrate has no jurisdiction.—Id. Where sub-tenant enters under promise of landlord to execute a new lease, which he afterwards refuses to do, he does not become a tenant at will under this Section.—Morris v. Palmer, 44 S. C., 462; 22 S. E., 726. Jurisdictional facts must appear upon the face of the notice.—State v. Latimer, 26 S. C., 208; 2 S. E., 1; Carlisle v. Prior, 48 S. C., 183; 26 S. E., 244; Baldwin v. Cooley, 1 S. C., 256. Appeal under this Section.—Moultrie v. Dixon, 26 S. C., 296; 2 S. E., 24.

Sec. 3183. In all cases where tenants hold over after the expiration of their lease or contract for rent, whether the same be in writing or by parol, or shall fail to pay the rent when the same shall become due, the landlord is hereby authorized and empowered, either in person or by agent, to demand possession thereof from the tenant or person in possession thereof; and in case of refusal or resistance, it shall be lawful for the person so letting said premises, houses or tenements, his agent or attorney, to apply to a Magistrate, whose duty it shall be to have a notice served upon the person or persons so refusing to be dispossessed to show cause before him, if any he can, within three days from the date of said personal service, of such notice, why he should not be dispossessed; and if he fails to show sufficient cause, it shall be the duty of the Magistrate forthwith to issue his warrant, directed to the Sheriff of the County or any Constable thereof, requiring him without delay to dispossess said person or persons from the premises so let, and authorizing him to use such force as may be necessary: Provided, That said Magistrate shall receive fifty cents for issuing said notice and warrant, the Sheriff or Constable a fee of one dollar for executing the same, to be paid by the party so refusing to be dispossessed, and if said costs cannot be collected from the tenant, then the same shall be paid by the landlord, except in case of Constables and Magistrates in Counties where they receive salaries: Provided, That in case any tenant is wrongfully dispossessed, he, she or they may have an action for damages against said landlord: Provided, further, That either party to the proceeding shall have the right to appeal, which appeal shall stay further proceedings upon the tenant entering into bond with sufficient surety or sureties to pay the landlord all damages which he may sustain thereby: Provided, further, That on demand for trial by jury of either party to the proceedings, trial by jury shall be allowed to decide the issue of fact arising thereunder.

Demand for possession is a necessary prerequisite to proceeding under this Statute.—Kellar v. Pagan, 54 S. C., 255; 32 S. E., 355. As to right of appeal prior to Act of 1901, see same case.

Is not unconstitutional.—Frazee v. Beattie, 26 S. C., 348; 2 S. E., 125; Swygert v. Goodwin, 32 S. C., 146. This proceeding is not an action involving title to land, but a summary proceeding.—State v. Marshall, 24 S. C., 507; Swygert v. Goodwyn, 32 S. C., 146; 10 S. E., 933. Notice to show cause must be personally served in order to give Magistrate jurisdiction.—State v. Marshall, 24 S. C., 507. What is such service.—Bradley v. Bell, 34 S. C., 107; 12 S. E., 1071. This Section gives jurisdiction only when record shows a case under it.—Baldwin v. Cooley, 1 S. C., 256; State v. Latimer, 26 S. C., 208; 2 S. E., 1. What sort of tenancy was created by the parol contract, and whether rent was due, were questions of fact to be determined by the Magistrate and not reviewable above.—Ib.

Penalty for not delivering possession in accordance with notice of intention to quit.

Civ. '02, § 2424.

Sec. 3184. In case any tenant shall give notice in writing of his intention to quit the premises rented by him, and shall not accordingly deliver up the possession at the time in such notice contained, the said tenant, his executors or administrators, shall pay to the landlord double the rent which he otherwise would have been liable to pay: Provided, nevertheless, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to give such tenant a right to discontinue or determine his tenancy by such notice, in any other manner than according to the laws of force at the time of giving the same.

A. D. 1912,

Sec. 3185. It shall not be lawful for any tenant to make alterations or remove buildings erected upon the leased premises, without permission first had in writing, under pain of forfeiting the residue of the unexpired term of said lease or agreement, parol or written; which said forfeiture shall be ascertained by Magistrate, with the jurors to be drawn in the same manner as is prescribed by Section 3181, and with like powers where the landlord is to be placed in possession.

Does not extend to case where rent is not due and goods are not subject to distress for rent in arrears.—Watson v. Hudson, 3 Brev., 60; Ayres v. DePras, 2 Speer, 367; In Re Connor, 12 Rich., 349; Dawson v. Dewan, 12 S. C., 499. Only personal chattels are meant; not chattels real.—Hamilton v. Reedy, 3 McC., 88. Jurisdiction of Common Pleas.

Civ. '02, §
2487.

Sec. 3198. The Court of Common Pleas has jurisdiction in all cases to make partition in kind of real and personal estates held in joint tenancy or in common, or by allotment to one or more of the parties, upon their accounting to the other parties in interest for their respective shares; or in case partition in kind or by allotment cannot be fairly and impartially made, and without injury to any of the parties in interest, by the sale of the property and the division of the proceeds according to the rights of the parties.

Sale and division.

The Court of Equity had jurisdiction in partition independently of the Statute.—Holley v. Glover, 36 S. C., 404; 15 S. E., 605; Charleston C. & C. R. R. Co. v. Leech, 35 S. C., 146; 14 S. E., 730. Infant parties, fee conditional.—Owings v. Hunt, 53 S. C., 187; 31 S. E., 237; Dupont v. DuBos, 52 S. C., 244; 29 S. E., 665. No need to resort to equity for partition under the facts in Latham v. Harby, 50 S. C., 862; 27 S. E., 862. Complaint not alleging possession by plaintiff sustained.—Garrett v. Weinberg, 50 S. C., 310; 27 S. E., 770. As to allegation of ouster.—Elmore v. Davis, 49 S. C., 1; 26 S. E., 898.

When account between co-defendants can be ordered.—Craig v. Craig, Ball Eq., 102. Legislature cannot confer upon Probate Court jurisdiction in partition between adults.—Davenport v. Caldwell, 10 S. C., 317. But proceedings in partition in that Court prior to that case in November, 1878, are binding upon all parties.—Herndon v. Moore, 18 S. C., 339; Schumpert v. Smith, 18 S. C., 358; Thomas v. Poole, 19 S. C., 323; Tederall v. Bouknight, 25 S. C., 275. Whether Probate Court has concurrent jurisdiction in partition under wills, or where there are minors, not decided.—Thomas v. Poole, 19 S. C., 323. Judge holding Court in the Circuit, and while in the County where the land lies, has power to hear and determine a case of partition at chambers.—Woodward v. Elliott, 28 S. C., 368. Recovery of land and partition thereof should not be joined in one action.—Westlake v. Farrow, 34 S. C., 270; 13 S. E., 469.

An estate in trees may exist separate from the estate in the land and is the subject of partition. It is discretionary with the court whether they be sold together or not.—Rivers v. A. C. Lumber Corp., 81 S. C., 492; 62 S. E., 855.

Sec. 3199. Writs of partition shall be issued and directed to five persons, two of whom shall be nominated by the plaintiff and two by the defendant, and a fifth by the officer issuing the same, and in cases when the defendant fails to appear or answer the plaintiff shall nominate three persons and the officer two, commanding them, or a majority of them, within one month thereafter (being first duly sworn for that purpose) fairly and impartially, according to the best of their judgment, to make partition of the premises described in the complaint among the parties entitled thereto, according to their several rights; and when the estate or property cannot, in the opinion of the Commissioners, be fairly and equally divided between the parties interested therein without manifest injury to them, or some one of them, then they shall make a special return of the whole property and the value thereof, truly appraised, and certify their opinion to the Court whether it will be most for the benefit of all parties to deliver over to one or more of the parties inter-vested therein the property which cannot be fairly divided, upon the payment of a sum of money to be assessed by the said Commissioners, or to sell the same at public auction, and the Court shall proceed to consider and determine the same; and if it shall appear to the Court that it will be for the benefit of all parties interested in the said estate or property that the same should be vested in one or more of the persons entitled to a portion of the same, on the payment of a sum of money assessed as aforesaid, the Court shall determine accordingly, and the said person or persons, on the payment of the consideration money, shall be vested with the estate so adjudged to such person or persons. But if it shall appear to the Court that it would be more for the interest of the parties interested in said estate or property that the same should be sold, and the proceeds of sale be divided among them, then the Court shall direct a sale to be made, on such terms as to the Court shall seem right.

The return of the Commissioners, if accepted, is the law between the parties as to equality of partition, and Court cannot otherwise determine it.—Buckler v. Farrow, Rich. Eq. Ca. 178. Such return, when confirmed, vests title only from payment of the money.—Burriss v. Gooch, 5 Rich., 1. Sec. 3200. Nothing in the preceding Section contained shall be construed to affect the power of the Court of Common Pleas to dispense with the issuing of such writ in cases where, in the judgment of the Court, it would involve unnecessary expense to issue the same; and the Court shall have power in all proceedings in partition, without recourse to the said writ, to determine, by means of testimony taken before the proper officer and reported to the Court, whether a partition in kind among the parties be practicable or expedient, and in cases where such partition cannot be fairly and equally made to order a sale of the property and a division of the proceeds according to the rights of the parties.

vey and secure the title and interest therein expressed, such defendant shall be entitled to recover of the plaintiff in such action the full value of all improvements made upon such land by such defendant, or those under whom he claims in the manner hereinafter provided.

This Act is not unconstitutional.—Lumb v. Pinckney, 21 S. C., 471. Section enforced.—Jacobs v. Bush, 17 S. C., 594; Rabb v. Flenniken, 32 S. C., 189; 10 S. E., 943. Where party supposed at time of purchase that he had a good title, he is entitled to improvements made after subsequent knowledge of title in another.—Templeton v. Lowry, 22 S. C., 389. Whether he so supposed, is a question of fact to be determined in the case.—Id. This Statute recognizes an equitable right and gives a remedy for its enforcement where none existed before.—Tumbleston v. Rumph, 43 S. C., 279; 21 S. E., 86; Hall v. Boatwright, 58 S. C., 544; 36 S. E., 1002. And it applies only to actions for recovery of land, and not to actions for partition between co-tenants, where equity affords a remedy for improvements to the common property.—Id.; McGee v. Hall, 28 S. C., 562; 6 S. E., 566. Applies only in actions for recovery of land, not in foreclosure suits.—Lessly v. Bowie, 27 S. C., 193; 3 S. E., 199. But parties in possession should not be allowed improvements and interest too during time of possession.—Boykin v. Ancrum, 28 S. C., 486; 6 S. E., 305.

It applies to improvements made by those under whom the plaintiff claims.—Salinas v. Altman, 45 S. C., 283; 22 S. E., 889. See also former hearing in same case: 41 S. C., 403; 19 S. Sec. 3202. The sum which such land shall be found at the time of the rendition of such judgment to be worth more, in consequence of improvements so made, than it would have been had no such improvements or betterments been made, shall be deemed to be the value of such improvements or betterments.

Sec. 3203. The defendant in such action shall, within forty-eight hours after such judgment, or during the term of the Court in which the same shall be rendered, file a complaint against such plaintiff for so much money as the lands and tenements are so made better, in the office of the Clerk of such Court, which shall be sufficient notice to the defendant in such complaint to appear and defend against the same; and all subsequent proceedings shall be had in accordance with the practice prescribed in the Code of Procedure.

"Final judgment," means the judgment in Circuit Court, even in cases of appeal, and it is too late to bring this action after remittitur of Supreme Court.—Garrison v. Dougherty, 18 S. C., 486. It does not mean entry of formal judgment, but final determination of rights of parties by verdict.—Godfrey v. Fielding, 21 S. C., 313. Defendant by answer claimed improvements, alleging only that he believed he had good title in fee at the time of his purchase, was allowed to amend by averring also a belief of good title at time the improvements were made.—McKnight v. Cooper, 27 S. C., 92; 2 S. E., 842.

Sec. 3204. The Court, on the entry of such action, shall stay all proceedings upon the judgment obtained in the prior action, except the recovery of such lands, until the sale of the lands recovered as hereinafter provided; and the final judgment shall be upon a special verdict by a jury, under the direction of the Court, stating the value of the lands and tenements without the improvements put thereon in good faith by the defendant, and the value thereof with improvements. The defendant in ejectment shall be entitled for said betterments to a verdict for the value thereof, as of the date when the said lands were recovered from him, and interest on said verdict from said date, and the lands and tenements so recovered shall be held to respond to said judgment for betterments in the same manner and for the same time as if the same had been attached on mesne process.

Sec. 3205. When final judgment shall be rendered as provided in Section 3204, the Court shall direct a sale of the land recovered in ejectment on the following terms: That out of the proceeds of sale, the plaintiff in ejectment, or his legal representative, be paid the amount ascertained as the value of his land without improvements put thereon in good faith by the defendant, and the surplus, if any, be paid to the occupying claimant, or his legal representative, and said judgment for betterments shall be a lien on such land in preference to all other liens: Provided, however, That this Section shall not apply to cases where the plaintiff in ejectment, or his legal representative, shall, within sixty days after the aforesaid special verdict, pay into the office of the Clerk of the Court, for the defendant, the value of the betterments as so found in said special verdict.

Homestead does not affect will.—Sloan v. Hunter, 65 S. C., 235; 43 S. L. 788.

1. When intestate leaves a widow and children; lineal descendants of the intestate represent their parents.

1. If the intestate shall leave a widow and one or more children, the widow shall take one-third of the estate, and the remainder shall be divided between the children, if more than one; but if only one, the remainder shall be vested in that one absolutely forever.

The lineal descendants of the estate shall represent their respective parents, and shall take among them the share or shares to which their parents would have been entitled had such parent survived the intestate.

A child born alive after death of intestate is entitled to inherit.—Pearson v. Carlton, 18 S. C., 47. Grandchildren whose father died in lifetime of intestate take his share.—McClure v. Steele, 14 Rich. Eq., 105. Great grandchildren take per stirpes.—Payne v. Harris, 3 Strob., 39.

2. When intestate leaves no child, but a widow, father, or mother, brothers or sisters of the whole blood, children of brothers and sisters of the whole blood represent their parent; when intestate leaves no parent, but widow, and brothers and sisters, &c.; when intestate leaves a widow and father or mother, and no brothers and sisters, &c.

2. If the intestate shall leave no child or other lineal descendant, but shall leave a widow, and a father or mother, and brothers and sisters, or brother or sister, of the whole blood, the estate, real and personal, of such intestate shall be distributed in the following manner, that is to say: the widow shall be entitled to one moiety thereof, and the other moiety shall be equally divided amongst the father, or, if he be dead, the mother and the brethren of the whole blood; so that such father or mother, as the case may be, and each brother and sister, shall receive an equal share thereof. The children of a deceased brother or sister of the whole blood to take among them the share which their parent would have been entitled to had such parent survived the intestate: Provided, That there be no representation admitted among collaterals after brothers' and sisters' children.

Grandchild of deceased brother or sister does not take in right of representation.—Poang v. Gadsden, 2 Bay, 293. Nor does child of deceased nephew.—North v. Valk, Dud. Eq., 212. Nephews and nieces take per stirpes.—Stent v. McLeod, as Ex'ors., 2 McC. Eq., 354. Amendment by Act 1851: XII., 80; O'Neale v. Dunlap, 11 Rich., 405.

If the intestate leave no father or mother, the provision made in this subdivision for such parent shall go as the rest of the estate is directed to be distributed therein.

If the intestate shall not leave a child or other lineal descendant, or brothers or sisters, one or more of the whole blood, or the children of a brother or sister of the whole blood, but shall leave a widow and a father or mother, the widow of the intestate shall be entitled to one moiety of the estate, and the father, or if he be dead, the mother, to the other moiety.

Trapp v. Billings, 2 McC. Eq., 403.

3. If the intestate shall not leave a lineal descendant, father, or mother, but shall leave a widow and brothers and sisters, or brother or sister of the whole blood, the widow shall be entitled to one moiety of the estate, and the brothers and sisters, or brother or sister, to the other moiety as tenants in common. The children of a deceased brother or sister shall take among them respectively the share which their respective ancestors would have been entitled to had they survived the intestate.

3. When intestate does not leave lineal descendant, father or mother, but leaves widow, and brothers and sisters, or brother or sister of the whole blood, widow takes one moiety. 1791, V., 163.

4. If the intestate shall leave no child or other lineal descendant, father, mother, brother or sister of the whole blood, but shall leave a widow and a brother or sister of the half blood, and a child or children of a brother or sister of the whole blood, the widow shall take one moiety of the estate, and the other moiety shall be equally divided between the brothers and sisters of the half blood, and the children of the brothers and sisters of the whole blood, the children of every deceased brother and sister of the whole blood taking among them a share equal to the share of a brother or sister of the half blood. If there be no brother or sister of the half blood, then a moiety of the estate shall descend to the child or children of the deceased brother or sister of the whole blood, taking by representation of the parent, and if there be no child of a brother or sister of the whole blood, then said moiety shall descend to the brothers and sisters of the half blood.

4. When intestate leaves no child or other lineal descendant, father, mother, brother, or sister of the whole blood, but leaves widow, and brother or sister of half blood, and a child of a brother or sister of the whole blood; when no brother or sister of half blood. Ib., 162, § 1.

Brothers and sisters of half blood do not take when there are those of whole blood.—Wren v. Carnes, 4 DeS., 403; Hagermeyer v. City Council, Riley Ch., 10 Rich. 1. Nor when intestate left a mother.—Lawson v. Perdriau, 1 McC., 456. Brothers and sisters of the half blood and children of predeceased brothers and sisters of the whole blood do not take equally; each of the former take an equal share, and each set of such children a like share, among them.—Felder v. Felder, 5 Rich. Eq., 509. Brother of half blood excludes children of deceased brother of half blood.—Ex parte Mays, 2 Rich., 61.

If the intestate shall leave no child, or other lineal descendant, father, mother, brother or sister of the whole blood, or their children, or brother or sister of the half blood,

5. When intestate leaves no child or other lineal descendant, father, mother, brother, or sister. 1791, V., 163.

6. When widow takes two-thirds.

then the widow shall take one moiety, and the lineal ancestor, if any there be, the other moiety.

6. If the intestate shall leave no child or other lineal descendant, father, mother, brother or sister of the whole blood, nor child of such brother or sister of the whole blood nor brother or sister of the half blood, or lineal ancestor, the widow shall take two-thirds of the estate, and the remainder shall descend to the next of kin.

In reckoning the degrees of kindred, the computation shall begin with the intestate and be continued up to the common ancestor, and then down to the person claiming kindred inclusively, each step inclusively being reckoned as a degree.

Maternal aunt inherits before children of paternal uncle.—Shaffer v. Nall, 2 Brev., 160; Gilbert v. Hendrix, 2 Brev., 161. Uncle and aunt of half blood exclude first cousins of whole blood.—Karwon v. Lowndes, 2 DeS., 216; Perry v. Logan, 5 Rich. Eq., 202. Kin in the fifth degree exclude those of sixth degree.—Witsell v. Linder, 3 DeS., 481. First cousins of the whole and half blood are equal kin and share alike.—Edwards v. Barksdale, 2 Hill Ch., 416. Generally, the half blood, except where otherwise specially provided, takes with the whole blood in the same degree.—Edwards v. Barksdale, 81 Ky. Eq., 16.

7. If intestate leaves no widow.

7. If the intestate shall leave no widow, the provision made for her shall go as the rest of the estate is directed to be distributed in the respective clauses in which the widow is provided for.

8. If intestate be a married woman.

8. On the death of a married woman intestate, the husband shall be entitled to the same share of her estate as is herein given to the widow out of the estate of the husband, and the remainder of her estate shall be distributed among her descendants and relations in the same manner as is directed in case of the intestacy of a married man.

case any child, or the issue of any child, who shall have been so advanced, shall not have received a portion equal to the share which shall be due to the other children, (the value of which portion being estimated at the death of the ancestor, but so as that neither the improvements of the real estate by such child or children, nor the increase of the personal property, shall be taken into the computation,) then so much of the estate of the intestate shall be distributed to such child or issue as shall make the estate of all the children to be equal.

Wills, how

Civ. '02, §
2491.

Sec. 3253. When a paper is offered before a Judge of Probate as the last will and testament of a person deceased, he may admit it to probate in either of the following forms, that is to say:

The admission of a will to probate merely establishes the fact that it has been made as required by Statute.—Burkett v. Whittemore, 36 S. C., 428; 15 S. E., 616.

1. Common form.

1. Without citing or calling before him such as have interest, he may examine one of the subscribing witnesses thereto, or, in case of their death, or their removal from the State, by proof of the handwriting of the testator or testatrix and of the subscribing witnesses, or any other secondary evidence admissible and sufficient by the rules of the common law; and if such proof shall satisfy the Judge of Probate that the paper is the last will and testament of the deceased, he shall admit it to probate in common form.

Ordinary on application for probate of will in solemn form can revoke probate in common form by his predecessor.—Gibson v. Brown, 1 N. & McC. 326. To complete probate, letters testamentary must be granted.—In re Drayton, 1 McC., 46.

2. Due form of law.

2. Probate in common form shall be good, unless some person or persons interested to invalidate the said paper as a will shall give notice to the Judge of Probate, within four years next after such probate, (or, if any party interested therein be subject to the disability of infancy, then, within four years next after such disability removed,) that he, she, or they do require it to be proved in due form of law, which is as follows: the Judge of Probate shall require the party producing the will for probate to prefer a petition in writ-g, praying to be permitted to swear and examine witnesses upon the same, for the publishing or confirming thereof; and, thereupon, all such persons as would have been entitled to distribution of the estate, if the deceased had died intestate, shall be summoned to answer the petition, in like manner as is provided for the summons of parties in civil actions in the Courts of Common Pleas; whereupon he shall, after swearing all the subscribing witnesses to the same, proceed to examine severally, and to take down in writing such depositions of other witnesses as are made for and against the confirmation of the will, upon all matters touching its legal validity, or formal execution; and, in case the proof be sufficient, he shall, by his decree, pronounce the validity of the will.

A. D. 1912,

Quiescence in probate in common law for four years thereafter, or after removal of disabilities, will bar this proceeding.—Kinard v. Riddlehoover, 8 Rich., 258; Ward v. Glenn, 9 Rich., 127. Non-resident next of kin ignorant of will permitted to litigate it for fraud, after probate.—McDowell v. Kinard, 2 DeS., 313. If no executor or administrator, parties interested in obtaining the will may be required to so prove the will.—Id. Will established thus, and confirmed on appeal, cannot be disturbed by Court of Equity.—Ward v. McCrane, 4 DeS., 422. Probate Court cannot construe will on such application—only determines execution and capacity.—Prater v. Whittle, 16 S. C., 40. And lapse of four years thereafter will not bar the right to testate the validity of provisions of the will.—Craig v. Beatty, 11 S. C., 375. As to validity—subscribing witnesses are to testify to capacity of testator.—Kinard v. Hazard, 1 Bay, 335. Generally, as to capacity.—Palmer v. Kinard, 2 DeS., 342; Hutton v. Blalock, 2 Mill, 231; Lee v. Lee, 4 McC., 23; Tompkins v. Tompkins, 1 Ball., 92; Black v. Ellis, 3 Hill, 68; Boyd v. Hill, 3 Hill, 341; Martin v. Teague, 2 Speer, 260; *McNinch v. Invalidity, on legal grounds.—Jolliffe v. Fanning, 10 Rich., 186. As to execution—all witnesses must be sworn.—Wooster v. Wooster, 4 DeS., 409. Testator's signature need not be proved by each witness; sufficient if proved by others.—Welch v. Welch, 9 Rich., 133. If witnesses deny testation, other clear proof of execution admissible.—Pearson v. Wight, 10 Rich., 336; Howell v. House, 2 Mill, 80. Proof of execution does not affect its construction.—Prater v. Whittle, 16 S. C., 46. As to verbal wills before execution.—Whitlock v. Wardlaw, 7 Rich., 453. When produced.—Watkins v. Watkins, 13 Rich., 66.

If a will be regularly proved in any foreign court, an exemplification of such will may be admitted to probate in this State upon the exemplification and certificate of the Judge of the Court of Probate; and the exemplification shall also be evidence of the devise of lands in this State where the title of land comes in question: Provided, that if the will be not proved in solemn form, the parties interested against the will shall not be concluded by such probate, but may examine witnesses as to the sanity of the testator, or as to any fraud or imposition practised upon him in obtaining the will; and the other side may apply for an order to perpetuate testimony in support of the will.

But if same administrator is appointed administrator de bonis non, and his accounts are fixed, that discharges the sureties.—Ordinary v. Trail, 2 Ball., 480; Ericks v. Howell, 2 Strob. Eq., 196. No money decree can be given against the administrator.—Gilliam v. McKunkin, 2 S. C., 442.

for the purpose of distributing the money which may ise from the sale thereof among his or her legatees, or for y other purpose whatsoever, if either such power of sale or if no person is named in said will to execute the said power, it may and shall be lawful to and for the executors or a majority of such executors, who shall qualify on the said will, or the survivor or survivors, to sell and convey the said lands agreeably to the intention of the testator.

A. D. 1912.

Applied.—Herbement v. Bostick, 2 Brev., 435; Drayton v. Grimke, Bal. Eq., 385; Chanet v. Villeponteaux, 3 McC., 29; Ferguson v. King, 2 N. & McC., 588; Ware v. Murph, Rice, 55; Thompson v. Lyons, 9 S. C., 492; Jennings v. Teague, 14 S. C., 229; Smith v. Winn, 27 S. C., 591; 4 S. E., 240; Bredenburg v. Bardin, 36 S. C., 197; 15 S. E., 372. But irrespective of this Act the power survives to one of several executors where it is coupled with a trust—Bredenburg v. Bardin, 36 S. C., 197; 15 S. E., 372. But it does not apply if the power be given to the executors jointly as several persons or in personal confidence; then all must act and it will not survive.—Mallett v. Smith, 6 Rich. Eq., 12; Smith v. Winn, 27 S. C., 591; 4 S. E., 240. The Act of 1876 is remedial and retrospective.—Bredenburg v. Bardin, 36 S. C., 197; 15 S. E., 372.

Civ. '02, §

Civ. '02, §
2602.

Sec. 3360. If any executor, or administrator with the will annexed, having power under the will to dispose of the estate or any part thereof, shall take such security as shall be clearly proved to be insufficient at the time, such executors, or administrators, and their sureties, shall be liable to make good any loss or damages that the legatees or creditors may sustain, to be recovered by action against such executors, or by action on the bond of such administrator, wherein such damages shall be assessed by the verdict of a jury.

Sec. 3361. It shall be lawful for any executor or executrix, administrator or administratrix, to become a purchaser at the sale of the estate of his or her testator or intestate under whatsoever authority the said sales may be made, and the property so purchased shall be vested in him or her; but he or she shall be liable to the parties interested for the actual value of the property at the time of sale in cases where it shall have been sold at an under price.

Under Act of 1789 administrator still had right to sell without such order. Harth v. Heddlestone, 2 Bay, 321. But under Act of 1824 such order became imperative as to personal property.—Rhame v. Lewis, 18 Rich. Eq., 9. But choses in action are not embraced in personal property.—Id.; Synolds v. Reeves, 23 S. C., 436; Chapman v. City Council, 30 S. C., 549; 3 S. E., 591. The doctrine of implied warranty applies to such sales.—Dun v. Bell, 2 N. & McC., 153. But purchaser cannot recover back his money on that ground.—Prescott v. Holmes, 7 Rich. Eq., 9. Right of Probate Court to set upset price.—Epperson v. Jackson, 23 S. C., 158; 65 S. E., 217.

Sec. 3364. It shall be the duty of the Judge of Probate, to whom administration may be granted, upon application made to him, to grant an order for the sale of the whole or any part of the personal estate of the deceased intestate, if, in his opinion, the same is advisable, regulating the time, place, and credit to be given, in such manner as to do impartial justice to all persons interested therein. Judge of Probate to grant order. Civ. '02, § 2006.

Terms of sale must be complied with.—Peay v. Fleming, 2 Hill Ch., 97; Peay v. Cureton, Chev. Eq., 181; Roberts v. Adams, 2 S. C., 337. Except the time of sale may be postponed by administrator when advisable.—Id. v. Lamb, Speer Eq., 289.

Sec. 3365. The Judge of Probate, in whose office a will is recorded, shall have the same power as to the personal estate of a testator, not inconsistent with the provisions of the will, as is given him over the personal estate of an intestate by the preceding Section. Power of Judge of Probate over personal estate of testator. Civ. '02, § 2607.

Sec. 3366. All administrators, executors, and other fiduciaries, shall be allowed to sell to the highest bidder, as other personal property is sold all notes, accounts, and other evidences of indebtedness. Sales of certain evidences of indebtedness. Civ. '02, § 2608.

Conveyance
of estates held by infants in trust or by way of mortgage.

It shall and may be lawful for any person under the age of twenty-one years, having estates in lands, tenements, or hereditaments, only in trust for others, or by way of mortgage, by the direction of the Court of Common Pleas, signified by an order made upon hearing all parties concerned, on the petition of the person for whom such infant or infants shall be seized or possessed in trust, or of the mortgagor, or guardian of such infant, or persons entitled to the moneys secured by or upon any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, whereof any infant is or shall be seized or possessed by way of mortgage, or of the person entitled to the redemption thereof, to convey and assure any such lands, tenements, or hereditaments, in such manner as the said Court shall, by such order so to be obtained, direct, to any other person.

Confirmation of such a conveyance.

Civ. '02, §
2610.

Sec. 3368. Such conveyance or assurance, to be had and made as aforesaid, shall be as effectual in law, to all intents and purposes whatsoever, as if the said infant was, at the time of making such conveyance or assurance, of the full age of twenty-one years.

Infant trustee,
&c., may be compelled to make such conveyance,
&c.

Civ. '02, §
2611.

Sec. 3369. All and every such infant, being only trustee or mortgagee as aforesaid, shall and may be compelled by such order, so as aforesaid to be obtained, to make such conveyance, assurance, as aforesaid, in like manner as trustees or mortgagees of full age are compellable to convey or assign the trust estates or mortgages.

Lands are thus made general assets for payments of debts.—Suber v. 13 S. C., 317. These terms cover every vested interest a man can have in lands.—Harrison v. Maxwell, 2 N. & Mc., 347. Embrace a vested interest.—Harrison v. Maxwell, 2 N. & McC., 347. Sale of lands of ancestor under execution against executor or administrator alone can be made if heirs or devisees are not in possession.—D'Urphey v. Nelson, 1 Brev., 134; Smith v. Smith, 1 McC. Ch., 134; Galphin v. McKinney, 1 McC. Ch., 134; Martin v. Latta, 4 McC., 128; Gregory v. Forrester, 1 McC. Ch., 318; Smith v. Huggins, 6 S. C., 359; Simons v. Bryce, 10 S. C., 354; Smith v. 15 S. C., 136; Small v. Small, 16 S. C., 64. But not when heirs or devisees are in actual and exclusive possession.—Jones v. Wightman, 2 Hill, 147; Bird v. House, Speer Eq., 250; Huggins v. Oliver, 21 S. Rushton, 4 DeS., 373; Richards v. 188. Nor under subsequent execution against vendor.—

A. D. 1912.

Massey v. McIlwaine, 2 Hill Ch., 421; Adicks v. Lowry, 12 S. C., 97. An equity of redemption under Acts 1791-1797 is a legal estate and subject to such sale.—The State v. Laval, 4 McC., 338; Norman v. Norman, 26 S. C., 41; 11 S. E., 1096; Navassa Co. v. Richardson, 26 S. C., 401; 2 S. E. 37. Interest of joint tenant subject to levy and sale.—Dayant v. Cabbage, 1 EL. 811; Galloway v. Galloway, 76 S. C., 526; 57 S. E., 528.

All estates held in trust may be sold under execution issued against the beneficiary.

Civ. '02, § 2618.

Section 3371. All estate, real or personal, which is held in trust for him against whom execution is sued, may be seized by the Sheriff or officer to whom the writ is delivered, and sold as the property of him that is entitled to the trust, in the same manner as if such property was held in his own name.

This only applies to simple and clear trusts.—White v. Kavanaugh, 1 Rich., 377. And not to trusts for debtor jointly with others.—Rice v. Bennett, Speer Eq., 579; Bristow v. McCaw, 16 S. C., 543. Sec. 3372. The Sheriff shall make a memorandum in writing, of the date of every levy, and specify the property upon which such levy has been made on the process, or in a schedule thereunto annexed; and if more than one process be levied on such property, reference on each shall be made to such memorandum or schedule.

In levying on land, the Sheriff need not go upon it.—Martin v. Bowk, 1 S. C., 102; 15 S. E., 736.

Failure to enter levy on all the executions except oldest does not invalidate sale.—Maddox v. Sullivan, 2 Rich. Eq., 4. Endorsement of acknowledgment of levy by defendant is sufficient.—Weatherby v. Covington, 3 Strob., 27; Rhame v. McRoy, 7 Rich., 37. Sufficient if entry be made on separate paper, folded and filed with the execution.—Kennedy v. Rountree, 59 S. C., 352; 37 S. E., 942. The physical annexing of the memorandum to the execution immaterial.—Tyler v. Williams, 53 S. C., 367; 31 S. E., 943. Entry there insufficient; essentials stated.—Id. Property must be specified, otherwise the levy is void.—Huger v. Osborne, 1 Bay, 319. If in general terms, deed may describe accurately.—Manning v. Dove, 10 Rich., 395. Levy is good, though made under satisfied execution, if there be unsatisfied ones.—McKnight v. Gordon, 13 Rich. Eq., 222. Civ. '02, §

How set off.

Section 3385. A homestead in lands, whether held in fee or any lesser estate, to the value of one thousand dollars, or so much thereof as the property is worth if its value is less than one thousand dollars, with the yearly products thereof, shall be exempt to the head of every family residing in this State from attachment, levy or sale, in mesne or final process issued from any Court, upon any judgment obtained upon any right of action arising subsequent to the ratification of the Constitution of the State of South Carolina in 1868. And it shall be the duty of the Sheriff or other officer before selling the real estate of any head of a family resident in this State to cause a homestead as above stated to be set off to said person in the manner following, to wit: He shall cause three appraisers to be appointed, one to be named by the creditor, one by the debtor and one by himself, who shall be discreet and disinterested men, in no wise related to either party, and resident in the County, and who shall be sworn by a Magistrate, or other officer authorized by law to administer oaths, to impartially appraise and set off by metes and bounds a homestead not to exceed in value one thousand dollars. The said appraisers shall make return of their action in the premises under their hands and seals.

the Sheriff or other officer within thirty days after they shall have been appointed as aforesaid, for record in the office of the Clerk of said Court, giving the metes and bounds as well as the value of the homestead set off, for which purpose they shall be authorized to call in the aid of a surveyor if they, or a majority of them, deem it necessary. If no complaint shall be made by either creditor or debtor within thirty days after the return of the appraisers has been filed, the proceedings in the case shall be final. If exceptions to said return be filed by either creditor or debtor within thirty days after the filing thereof, the same shall be tried de novo upon testimony taken in open Court, and the Court out of which the process issued may, upon good cause being shown, order a reappraisement and reassignment of the homestead by other appraisers appointed by the Court. Should the creditor or debtor neglect or refuse, after ten days' notice from the officer in whose hands the process is lodged, to nominate an appraiser, the said officer shall appoint the same.

Character of homestead.—It is an absolute exemption, to be perpetuated under certain conditions.—McKeown v. Carroll, 5 S. C., 75; Hardin v. Houze, 18 S. C., 73; Bradford v. Buchanan, 39 S. C., 237; 17 S. E., 501; Ross v. Bradford, 28 S. C., 71; 5 S. E., 84; Mellichamp v. Mellichamp, 28 S. C., 125; 5 S. E., 333; Parr v. Lindler, 40 S. C., 193; 18 S. E., 636. But under the Constitution of 1868, before the amendment of 1880, it could not be claimed if the conditions did not exist or had ceased.—Hardin v. Houze, 18 S. C., 73; Chalmers v. Turnipseed, 21 S. C., 126; Yoe v. Hanvey, 25 S. C., 309; 14 S. E., 1099. It is not a new estate, nor, prior to the Constitution of 1895, did the right to it destroy the power to alien or encumber the property; but it left the titles intact.—Smith v. Malone, 10 S. C., 39; Bull v. Rowe, 13 S. C., 333; Elliott v. Mackorell, 19 S. C., 239; ex parte Ray, 20 S. C., 246; Youngblood v. Lathen, 20 S. C., 370; Chafee v. Rainey, 21 S. C., 11; Chalmers v. Turnipseed, 21 S. C., 126; Horsford v. Wynn, 22 S. C., 309; Cantrell v. Fowler, 24 S. C., 424; Yoe v. Hanvey, 25 S. C., 309; Kitchen v. McCarley, 26 S. C., 1; 11 S. E., 1099. It does not affect the Statute of Distribution.—ex parte Ray, 20 S. C., 246. Under Con. 1868, and Acts of 1872 and 1873, it was limited to life of childless widow.—Chalmers v. Turnipseed, 21 S. C., 126. Where husband's fraudulent conveyance is set aside, he is still entitled to homestead in the land.—Wood v. Timmerman, 29 S. C., 125; 7 S. E., 74. Where husband fraudulently has land conveyed to his wife, he paying the purchase money, he cannot claim homestead in it.—Bridges v. Howell, 27 S. C., 425; 11 S. E., 790.

In what lands.—One is entitled to homestead in a tract of land assigned to him in partition.—Riley v. Gaines, 14 S. C., 454. Leased parcels adjoining residence.—Harrell v. Kea, 16 S. E., 42; 37 S. C., 369. Also, in his share of proceeds of land sold for partition.—Swandale v. Swandale, 25 S. C., 389; ex parte Carraway, 28 S. C., 233; 5 S. E., 597. But not in his undivided interest in land itself; though Court may restrain sale thereof until partition is made.—Nance v. Hill, 26 S. C., 227; 1 S. E., 897; Mellichamp v. Mellichamp, 28 S. C., 125; 5 S. E., 333; Ketchin v. Patrick, 32 S. C., 443; 11 S. E., 301. One holding land under contract to purchase has no homestead

C., 29; ex parte Kurz, 24 S. C., 468. Under amendment to Constitution in 1882, head of family is entitled to homestead in any land he may own, whether he reside on it or not.—Swandale v. Swandale, 25 S. C., 889; Nance v. Hill, 26 S. C., 227; 1 S. E., 897. Husband not entitled to homestead in lands of wife, who died childless.—Harnon v. Wagener, 33 S. C., 487; 12 S. E., 98. Head of family—widow is, though childless.—Bradley v. Rodlesperger, 3 S. C., 206; Moore v. Parker, 13 S. C., 486; Bradley v. Rodlesperger, 17 S. C., 9; Yoe v. Hanvey, 25 S. C., 34. Bachelor is not.—Garaty v. DuBose, 5 S. C., 493. Father is, who has child living with him.—Meyers v. Ham, 20 S. C., 522. Even though child be an adult married son, living separate from his wife.—Rollings v. Evans, 23 S. C., 316. Debtor who marries after levy on his land, and before sale, is entitled to homestead therein.—Id. Distinction as to personalty.—Pender v. Lancaster, 14 S. C., 25. A son is, who devotes his earnings and rents to the support of himself and widowed mother.—Scott v. Moseley, 54 S. C., 375; 32 S. E., 450. Widower living with adopted daughter.—Wagener v. Parrott, 51 S. C., 489; 29 S. E., 240. Single woman, who has dependent sister living with her, is.—Chamberlain v. Brown, 33 S. C., 597; 11 S. E., 439. A man is, who continues to support his wife's niece, who lived with them during wife's life and spends part of her time with him since her death.—Fant v. Gist, 36 S. C., 576; 15 S. E., 721. Against what debts.—The cases in re Kennedy, 2 S. C., 216; Adams v. Smith, Muller v. Farhart, Adams v. Lide, 2 S. C., 228; Howze v. Howze, 2 S. C., 229, allowing the homestead exemption provided by the Constitution of 1868, and the Acts thereunder against antecedent debts, have been overruled. It is now settled that such homestead as to antecedent debts is contrary to the Constitution of the United States, and all proceedings therefor void.—Cochran v. Darby, 5 S. C., 125; ex parte Hewett, 5 S. C., 409; De LaHove v. Harper, 5 S. C., 470; Bull v. Rowe, 13 S. C., 355; Douglass v. Craig, 13 S. C., 371; Carrigan v. Bozeman, 13 S. C., 376; Charles v. C., 398; 10 S. E., 93. The homestead exemption is governed by the law in force at the time of the creation of the debt.—Trimmer v. Winsmith, 41 S. C., 109; 19 S. E., 283; McClenaghan v. McEachern, 47 S. C., 446; 25 S. E., 296. Only allowed debtor against his own debts.—Bank v. Senn, 25 S. C., 572. Not against debts of another.—Wallace v. Johnson, 17 S. C., 454. Nor against a debt due a joint purchaser of land, on account of his interest therein, and for rents and profits.—Edwards v. Edwards, 14 S. C., 11. Nor against a distress warrant.—Harley v. Weathersbee, 21 S. C., 243. Widow's homestead in husband's land cannot be sold under judgment on her individual debt.—Hanford v. Wynn, 22 S. C., 309. As to debt contracted before amendment of Constitution in 1880, the question of homestead must be determined by the original Constitution of 1868.—Norton v. Bradham, 21 S. C., 375. Subsequent judgment having no lien on the land cannot compel judgment creditor for purchase money to first exhaust the homestead.—Ex parte Kurz, 24 S. C., 468. Nor so compel senior judgment when, by consent, it has been paid out of other lands without equities reserved.—Shell v. Young, 32 S. C., 462; 11 S. E., 299. Sec. 3387. Whenever, in the assignment of a homestead as provided in Section 3385 of this Chapter, the appraisers shall find that the premises exceed the value of one thousand (1,000) dollars, and that the same cannot be divided without injury to the remainder, they shall make and sign under oath, an appraisal thereof, and deliver the same to the Sheriff, who shall within ten days thereafter deliver a copy thereof to the head of the family claiming the homestead, or to some member of the family of suitable age to understand the nature thereof, with a notice attached that unless the person so claiming the homestead shall pay to said Sheriff the surplus of the appraised value over and above one thousand (1,000) dollars within sixty days thereafter, such premises will be sold; and on failure to pay such surplus in the time limited, the Sheriff shall advertise and sell the said premises, and out of the proceeds of such sale shall pay into the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court one thousand (1,000) dollars, which shall be applied, under the order of the Circuit Judge, upon the application of the head of the family, in the purchase of a homestead of that value. Homestead in personal property.

Civ. '02, §
2631. 1904,
XXIV, 412.

Sec. 3390. The personal property of the head of any family residing in this State, whether entitled to a homestead exemption in lands or not, to the extent of five hundred dollars, shall be exempt from attachment, levy or sale; and the personal property, consisting of necessary wearing apparel, and tools and implements of trade, not to exceed the value of three hundred dollars, the property of any person not the head of a family, shall be exempt from attachment, levy or sale. In case the right of such exemption be disputed by the creditors, the officer in whose hands the process is lodged shall cause the same to be ascertained and appraised, subject to the right of either creditor or debtor to except to the same, as provided by law; and all exempted property, so ascertained and appraised, by appraisers appointed and sworn for that purpose, and the return of which has been duly made, filed and recorded, as provided in Sections 3385 and 3386, shall vest absolutely in the party freed from all debts of the debtor then existing or thereafter contracted, whether such debtor retain or sell the property.

A judgment debtor entitled to homestead exemption in money—Gray v. Putnam, 51 S. C., 97; 28 S. E., 149. The Legislature could exempt as homestead only such articles of personal property as were enumerated in Article I., Sec. 32, of the Constitution of 1868, before it was amended in 1880.—Duncan v. Barnett, 11 S. C., 333. Before such amendment in 1880 only such articles of personal property as were named in the Constitution could be assigned as homestead.—Duncan v. Barnett, 11 S. C., 333. This exemption of personal property, whether the party was entitled to homestead in land or not, was Constitutional before the amendment to the Constitution in 1880.—Oliver v. White, 18 S. C., 240. Prior to amendment of Constitution in 1880, it did not exempt money from seizure.—Bank v. Northrop, 19 S. C., 73. Brother living with sister in her house is head of a family and is entitled to chattel exemption.—Moyer v. Drummond, 32 S. C., 165; 10 S. E., 52. C., 509; 64 S. E., 401.

Sec. 3391. In case any woman, having a separate estate, shall be married to the head of a family who has not of ^{When a married woman has homestead.} his own sufficient property to constitute a homestead, as ^{Civ. '02, § 2632.} hereinbefore provided, said married woman shall be entitled to a like exemption, to be ascertained and set off in the same way, and with the same effect, as provided for the head of a family: Provided, That there shall not be an allowance of more than one thousand (1,000) dollars worth of real estate, and not more than five hundred (500) dollars worth of personal property, to the husband and wife jointly.

Lands of husband and wife taken together to make up homestead.—McNaghan v. McEachern, 47 S. C., 446; 25 S. E., 296.

Sec. 3392. The exemptions contained in the preceding sections of this Chapter shall not extend to an attachment, ^{What property not exempt from levy and sale.} or sale in any mesne or final process to secure or enforce ^{Civ. '02, § 2633.} the payment either of taxes or of obligations contracted for the purchase of said homestead, or the erection or making of improvements or repairs thereon, or for the purchase of said personal property: Provided, The Court or authority issuing said process shall certify thereon that the same is issued for some one or more of said purposes and no other: Provided, further, The yearly products of said homestead shall be subject to attachment, levy and sale to secure or enforce the payment of obligations contracted for provisions or other necessary articles purchased, or advances in money or merchandise procured to be used or expended in the production of the same, or of other obligations contracted in the production of the same, and of none other; but the Court issuing the process therefor shall certify thereon that the same is issued for the said purpose and no other.

Sec. 3393. Whenever in any cause now or hereafter pending in the Court of Common Pleas in any County of this State the question of the right of any parties to a homestead or other like exemption in and to any property involved in said cause shall be made and adjudicated or otherwise brought to the attention of the Court, it shall be competent for the Court in all cases where the real property in respect to which the homestead is claimed shall be found by said Court to exceed the sum of one thousand dollars, and in all cases where the personal property in respect to which an exemption is claimed shall be found by said Court to exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, in its discretion, either direct a sale of the entire property and provide for the payment of the amount of the exemption out of the proceeds of sale, or it may, where a division of kind shall appear to said Court to be practicable, direct that the homestead and personal property exempted

In cases where the property shall be so sold as above and a sum of money shall be taken from the proceeds of sale as the exempted property, the Court shall make such order relative to the investment or other disposition thereof as shall secure the rights of all parties interested.

Sec. 3394. Whenever the head of any family, married woman, widow, or children, shall be entitled to an estate or right of homestead as hereinbefore provided, and no process has been lodged with any officer against such homestead, the party or parties entitled to such homestead may apply at any time by petition to the Master of said County, or if there be no Master therein, then, and in that event, to the Clerk of the Court for said County, to have the same appraised and set off. The Master, or if there be no Master in said County, the Clerk of the Court, shall, thereupon, after giving public notice by advertising the intention of such party or parties to have his or their homesteads set off, once a week for four weeks, in a paper published in the County where the land lies, and in case no paper is published in the County, then by posting the notice on the door of his office and in three other public places, for a like length of time, appoint three disinterested persons, resident in the County, who, having been duly sworn, shall proceed to appraise in the manner hereinbefore provided, and set off, metes and bounds, such homestead, and make return to him. If no complaint shall be made by any creditor, or other person interested, against said appraisal and setting off of the homestead within thirty days after the return of the appraisers, the same shall be confirmed by the Circuit Court at the next ensuing term thereof, and shall be recorded as provided in Section 3386 of this Chapter: Provided, That no appraisement shall be made or return filed until the notice has expired. But if exceptions to such appraisement and return be filed by any person interested therein, within the said period of thirty days after filing the return of said appraisers, the Circuit Court, upon good cause being shown, may order a reappraisement and assignment of the homestead by other appraisers to be appointed by the Court. Civ. '02, § 2638.

Section 3397. Whenever any debtor shall assign his or her property, for the benefit of his or her creditors, it shall be lawful for the said creditors to name and appoint an agent or agents, equal in number to the assignees, to act in their behalf, jointly with the assignee or assignees named and appointed by the assignor.

The assignment vests all estate of the debtor in the assignee upon his acceptance.—Cohen v. Gibbes, 1 Hill, 206; Wallace v. Foster, 15 S. C., 214. Miller v. Sligh, 10 Rich. Eq., 247; Bryce v. Foot, 25 S. C., 467. Subject to unrecorded mortgage.—Grube v. Lillenthal, 51 S. C., 442; 29 S. E., 230. Summers v. Bryce, 36 S. E., 204; 15 S. E., 374. Without assent of creditors.—Tennant v. Stoney, Ball. Eq., 222. But upon failure of acceptance the title remains in assignor.—Brooks v. Brooks, 12 S. C., 422. It is not revocable at will of assignor.—Beall v. Lowndes, 4 S. C., 258; Shubar v. Winch, Chev., 218. Assignee should sue alone for the assets.—Salas v. Clay, 12 Rich., 558. He may have creditors, who obtained judgment against assignor after assignment, restrained from enforcing it against the assets.—Howard v. Cannon, 11 Rich. Eq., 23. Payment by debtor to creditor after notice of the assignment is invalid.—Tilbets v. Weaver, 5 Strob., 144. Creditor of assignor cannot discount his debt to assignor with debt due him for money paid as surety after assignment.—Nettles v. Huggins, 8 Rich., 273. Assignee may prosecute suit begun by debtor before assignment.—Cleverly v. McLaugh, 6 Rich., 517. But assignee cannot warrant real estate he sells.—Welsch v. Davis, 3 S. C., 110. The provisions of this Act as to administration of the assigned estate do not apply to foreign assignments, and do not render them void.—Russell v. Tunno, 11 Rich., 303. But assignments executed in other States containing provisions in conflict with those of this Chapter are void.—Sheldon v. Blauvelt, 29 S. C., 453; 7 S. E., 593; 1 L. E.

A. D. 1912.

685; Ayers v. Desportes, 56 S. C., 544; 35 S. E., 218. The agents so appointed have joint power and responsibility with the assignee.—Mills v. Jackson, 6 Rich., 487; Miller v. Sligh, 10 Rich. Eq., 247. They are both trustees.—Miller v. Sligh, 10 Rich. Eq., 247; McIntyre v. McClenaghan, 12 S. C., 185; Ex parte Wiggins, 1 Hill Ch., 354; Farrar v. Farley, 3 S. C., 11. But each is only liable for his own acts, and not for the acts of the others, except where he has contributed to them.—Miller v. Sligh, 10 Rich. Eq., 247. Neither can buy at his own sales.—Ex parte Wiggins, 1 Hill Ch., 354; Farrar v. Farley, 3 S. C., 11. Effect of release, principal and surety.—Ragsdale v. Rank, 45 S. C., 575; 23 S. E., 947.

Sec. 3398. It shall be the duty of the assignee or assignees, within ten days after the execution of the deed of assignment, to call the creditors together, to proceed to the appointment of their agent or agents; and all sales and transfers of property made by the assignee or assignees prior to the appointment of the agent or agents of the creditors, are hereby declared void and of no effect.

Creditors to be called together; sales before appointment of agents, void.

Civ. '02, § 2639.

Sec. 3399. In case the assignee or assignees delay, neglect, or refuse to assemble the creditors within the time herein prescribed and limited, it shall be lawful for the creditors to meet and appoint their agent or agents; and the said agent or agents, on application to and by order of the Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, shall take into their hands and possession all the property assigned, and of which the assignee would by law be entitled to the possession, and shall sell and dispose of the same agreeably to the deed of assignment.

Refusal of assignees to call creditors together.

Civ. '02, § 2640.

Sec. 3400. In the appointment of the agent or agents, the majority in amount of the debts represented by the creditors present at the meeting shall govern; and the agent or agents so appointed shall have equal power and authority with the assignee or assignees to sell and dispose of the property assigned, and distribute and pay the proceeds, according to the intent and provisions of the deed of assignment; and all sales, hypothecations, or other transfers of property, whether real or personal, shall be void and null, unless made with the consent and concurrence of the assignee or assignees and agent or agents, or a majority of them; and should the assignee or assignees and agent or agents be equally divided on any question, the same shall be decided by an umpire appointed as is hereafter provided.

Majority of debts represented to govern; assignees and agents of creditors to act jointly.

Civ. '02, § 2641.

Sec. 3401. Should the creditors, as aforesaid, refuse or neglect to appoint an agent or agents, in ten days after they have been called together by the assignee or assignees, the assignee or assignees may forthwith proceed to sell or otherwise dispose of the assigned effects, without the concurrence of the said creditors.

Proceeds of sales to be deposited.

Civ. '02, §
2643.

Sec. 3402. The proceeds arising from the sales of the property assigned shall be deposited for safe keeping in a national bank within the State, or some banking institution incorporated by the State, in the joint names of the assignee or assignees and agent or agents, and subject to their joint drafts.

Umpire to be appointed in case of disagreement.

Statement of proceedings to be made every three months.

Civ. '02, §
2645.

Sec. 3404. It shall be the duty of the assignee or assignees and agent or agents, to lay, every three months, before the creditors, or such committee as they may appoint, an exact statement of their proceedings; the creditors or their committee may, however, call the assignee or assignees and agent or agents oftener to account; they may also direct and prescribe the time and mode of selling, and the terms of sale, order a distribution of the assets on hand, and a final close of the concern; and, in case of need, may revoke and dismiss their agent or agents, and name and appoint another in his stead; and the said assignee or assignees and agent or agents, failing or neglecting to lay the statement of their proceedings before the creditors or their committee, as herein directed, or whenever called on, or to obey or abide by their directions, shall be answerable for all damages resulting from their refusal or neglect, and forfeit the commission they might otherwise be entitled to.

Commissions
allowed.

Civ. '02, §
2646.

Sec. 3405. The commission due and owing to the assignee or assignees and agent or agents, for their trouble and labor, shall be five per centum on receiving, and two and a half per centum on paying, to be equally divided between them, that is to say, one-half to the assignee or assignees, and the other half to the agent or agents.

A. D. 1912,

Sec. 3406. Any assignment by an insolvent debtor of his or her property for the benefit of his or her creditors, in which any preference or priority is given to any creditor or creditors, of the said debtor by the terms of the said assignment over any other creditor or creditors, other than as to any debts due to the public, or in which any provision or disposition of the property so assigned is made or directed, other than that the same be distributed among all creditors of the said insolvent debtor equally, in proportion to the amount of their several demands, and without preference or priority of any kind whatsoever, save only as to debts due to the public, and save only as to such creditors as may accept the terms of such assignment and execute a release of their claim against the debtor, and except as hereinafter provided, such assignment shall be absolutely null and void, and of no effect whatsoever.

Assignments
by insolvent debtors, giving priority or preference, void.

Civ. '02, §
2647.

Schedule of assets.—Adler v. Cloud, 42 S. C., 272; 20 S. E., 393. Who may attack.—Mainhard v. Strickland, 29 S. C., 491; 7 S. E., 838. A transfer of all one's property on valid consideration held not an assignment for creditors.—Lanahan v. Bailey, 58 S. C., 269; 36 S. E., 584; Porter v. Stricker, 44 S. C., 183; 21 S. E., 635. Insolvency and incompetency of assignee is ground of attack.—Regenstein v. Pearlstein, 30 S. C., 192; 8 S. E., 192. A bona fide assignment made, not for partial, but general benefit of all the creditors, and comprehending all the debtor's property, is not fraudulent.—Bush v. Waring, 1 Bay, 90. Merely placing certain debts at head of schedule gives no preference.—Winslow v. Assignees, 1 McC. Ch., 10. An assignment giving no preference to such creditors as may accept and release is valid.—Vaughn v. Evans, 1 Hill Ch., 414; Nivlon v. Douglass, 1 Hill Ch., 443; Alken v. Price, Dud., 59; Pfeifer v. Dargan, 14 S. C., 44; Jaffray v. Steedman, 35 S. C., 33; 14 S. E., 632. But it is void if made on the condition that all creditors accept and release.—Jacob v. Corbett, 1 Rich. Eq., 71; LePrince v. Guillemot, 1 Rich. Eq., 219; Stewart v. Kerrison, 3 S. C., 266; Claffin v. Iseman, 23 S. C., 416; Trumbo v. Hamel, 29 S. C., 520; 8 S. E., 83; Clarke v. Baker, 36 S. C., 420; 15 S. E., 614. But such an assignment is void if it gives any advantage to the assignor to the detriment of the creditors.—Stewart v. Kerrison, 3 S. C., 266. Partnership may assign partnership property alone, giving such preference to releasing creditors as the firm.—Trumbo v. Hamel, 29 S. C., 520; 8 S. E., 83; Armstrong v. Jaffray, 39 S. C., 498; 18 S. E., 150. But where partners assign both their individual and partnership assets, and give the individual creditors preference out of the individual assets, the assignment is void.—Blair v. Black, 31 S. C., 346; 9 S. E., 1033. When no time is fixed for acceptance upon the terms prescribed, creditors may accept at any time before the fund is distributed.—Tennant v. Stoney, 1 Rich. Eq., 222; Adler v. Cloud, 42 S. C., 272; 20 S. E., 393; Beall v. Lowndes, 4 S. C., 258; Atlantic Co. v. Law, 3 S. C., 606; 23 S. E., 955. Preference given accepting creditors within limited time.—McElwee v. McGill, 57 S. C., 12; 35 S. E., 401; Trumbo v. Hamel, 29 S. C., 520; 8 S. E., 83. But if time is fixed they must do so within the time.—Pfeifer v. Dargan, 14 S. C., 44; Jaffray v. Steedman, 35 S. C., 33; 14 S. E., 632. Acceptance in terms is not necessary, unless required; it may be presumed from conduct.—Tennant v. Stoney, 1 Rich. Eq., 222. But if required to be in writing, it must be so.—Bank v. Walker,

A. D. 1912.

12 Rich., 304; Hewitt v. Darlington Phosphate Co., 20 S. E., 804; 43 S. C., 5; Burgess v. Westmoreland, 38 S. C., 425; 17 S. E., 56. Acceptance and receipt of share of proceeds bind the creditor, and he cannot afterwards question the validity of the assignment.—Pierce, Butler & Co. v. Jones & Sons, 8 S. C., 278; Arnold v. Bailey, 24 S. C., 496. But where assignment requires both an acceptance and release in writing within a given time, the creditor must give both, to be entitled to preference; written acceptance alone not sufficient.—Jaffray v. Steedman, 35 S. C., 88; 14 S. E., 632. A complaint to set aside a sale and mortgage as void under this Section may state that they were made to creditors of the assignor.—Miller v. Hughes, 22 S. C., 530; 12 S. E., 419.

All transactions within 90 days of insolvency void.

Civ. '02, § 2648.

Sec. 3407. If any person, being insolvent, within ninety days before the making of any assignment by him or her of his or her property for the benefit of his or her creditors, with a view to give a preference to any creditor or person having a claim against him or her, or who is under any liability for him or her, procures or suffers any part of his or her property to be attached, sequestered, or seized on execution, or makes any payment, pledge, assignment, transfer, or conveyance of any part of his or her property, either directly or indirectly, absolutely or conditionally, the person receiving such payment, pledge, assignment, transfer, or conveyance of any part of his or her property, or to be benefited thereby, or by such attachment, having reasonable cause to believe such person to be insolvent, and that such attachment, sequestration, seizure, payment, pledge, assignment or conveyance is made in fraud of the provisions of this Chapter, the same shall be void, and the assignee may recover the property, or the value of it, from the person so receiving it, or so to be benefited. Nothing, however, in this Section shall be construed to invalidate any loan of actual value, or the security therefor, made in good faith upon a security taken in good faith, on the occasion of the making of such loan, or any security bona fide made for advances.

Constructive assignments giving preferences void.—Putney v. Friedman, 32 S. C., 492; 11 S. E., 337; Meinhard v. Youngblood, 41 S. C., 312; 19 S. E., 675. Mortgages held not to be.—Lamar v. Pool, 26 S. C., 241; 2 S. E., 322; McIntyre v. Ligon, 38 S. C., 457; 17 S. E., 253; Monaghan Bay Co. v. Dickson, 39 S. C., 146; 17 S. E., 696. Where the reservation is covered by the homestead it does not affect the validity of the assignment.—Haynes v. Hoffman, 46 S. C., 157; 24 S. E., 103. The term insolvent means not having sufficiency of property to pay debts under legal process.—Akers v. Rowan, 33 S. C., 451; 12 S. E., 165. The manifest object of this Section is to prevent an insolvent debtor from transferring his property for the benefit of one or more creditors to the exclusion of others, whether by deed of assignment or in any other mode.—Wilks v. Walker, 22 S. C., 104. It applies to foreign assignments as well as domestic.—Es parte Dickinson, 29 S. C., 453; 7 S. E., 593. It only applies to an actual assignment or to what is tantamount to an assignment.—Verner v. McGhee, 26 S. C., 248; 2 S. E., 118; Lamar v. Pool, 26 S. C., 441; 2 S. E., 322. Archer v. Long, 32 S. C., 171; 11 S. E., 86; Putney v. Friesleben, 32 S. C., 492; 11 S. E., 337. It does not forbid the right of securing one creditor over another.—Magovern v. Richards, 27 S. C., 272; 3 S. E., 340. So where insolvent debtor transfers all of his property to one or more creditors by mortgage, bill of sale or deed, or in any mode intended to be an assignment for benefit of such creditors to exclusion of all other creditors, the transaction is void.—Wilks v. Walker, 22 S. C., 108; Austin v. Morris, 23 S. C., 393; Mann v. Poole, 40 S. C., 1; 18 S. E., 145; Meinhard v. Strickland, 29 S. C., 491; 7 S. E., 837; Mitchell v. Mitchell, 42 S. C., 475; 20 S. E., 405; Archer v. Long, 32 S. C., 171; 11 S. E., 86; Putney v. Friesleben, 32 S. C., 492; 11 S. E., 337. But a mortgage not so intended is not void.—Lamar v. Pool, 26 S. C., 441; 2 S. E., 322; Magovern v. Richards, 27 S. C., 272; 3 S. E., 340; Archer v. Long, 32 S. C., 171; 11 S. E., 86. But where one purchased stock of goods of insolvent, bona fide, and paid in part with a debt due him by vendor, the transaction is not in violation hereof.—Verner v. McGhee, 26 S. C., 248; 2 S. E., 118. Assignments are not void because they provide preference for liens and for counsel fees for services rendered for assignment.—Bryce v. Foot, 25 S. C., 67; Verner v. Davis, 26 S. C., 609; 2 S. E., 114. Akers v. Rowan, 36 S. C., 7; 12 S. E., 165. But are void when they give preference for legal services not so rendered.—Clark v. Baker, 36 S. C., 420; 15 S. E., 614. It matters not whether the preference is fraudulent or not.—Lamar v. Pool, 26 S. C., 441; 2 S. E., 322; Magovern v. Richard, 27 S. C., 272; 3 S. E., 340. And references in foreign assignments, there valid, are void here.—Es parte Dickinson, 29 S. C., 453; 7 S. E., 593. A mortgage not recovered for nineteen months, and then recorded within two days before assignment, is not made within ninety days before such assignment and not avoided by this section.—South Carolina Co. v. McPherson, 26 S. C., 431; 2 S. E., 267. Mortgage of insolvent debtor to secure a creditor, if not accepted with knowledge of the insolvency within ninety days before general assignment, is not void.—Magovern v. Richard, 27 S. C., 272; 3 S. E., 340. The Section is not restricted to conveyances to creditors alone; but a conveyance to his wife, by an insolvent debtor, as a preference, within ninety days before his assignment, is embraced in this Section, and is void.—Wagner v. Boynton, 29 S. C., 389; 7 S. E., 481. Mortgage of individual property by copartner.—Durham v. Hemphill, 45 S. C., 621; 24 S. E., 85. Reservation of property by prior fraudulent conveyance renders assignment void.—Younger v. Massey, 17 S. E., 711; 39 S. C., 115. Rights of creditors under assignment.—Ryttenberg v. Keels, 39 S. C., 203; 17 S. E., 441; McCreery v. Garvin, 39 S. C., 15; 17 S. E., 828. Where assignment is set aside.—Younger v. Massey, 41 S. C., 50; 19 S. E., 125.

In order to set aside deed as void under this Section it is necessary to show (1) that grantor was insolvent, (2) that it was intended to give an unlawful preference, and (3) that the grantee had cause to believe the first two facts. Meinhardt v. Ponder, 64 S. C., 354; 42 S. E., 169. Chattel mortgage void, when.—Secrest v. Ins. Co., 68 S. C., 378; 47 S. E., 10.

Sec. 3408. Whenever any debtor shall assign his or her property for the benefit of his or her creditors, it shall and may be lawful for any creditor or creditors of the said debtor, either by simple contract, specialty, or in any other manner, to institute proceedings against the said debtor, or the assignee named in the said assignment, or both, or any other person properly parties thereto, either to attack and set aside the said deed of assignment, or to enforce the provisions thereof, or for any other purpose whatever, without first obtaining and entering up judgment against the said debtor upon the claim or demand so held by the said creditor or creditors.

Applied.—Austin v. Morris, 23 S. C., 393; Meinhard v. Strickland, 29 S. C., 491; 7 S. E., 838; Regenstein v. Pearlstein, 30 S. C., 192; 8 S. E., 550. Miller v. Hughes, 33 S. C., 530; 12 S. E., 419. Releases under mistake.—Whitehill v. Dacus, 49 S. C., 273; 27 S. E., 200.

No action shall be brought whereby to charge any executor or administrator upon any special promise to answer damages out of his own estate; or whereby to charge the defendant upon any special promise to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another person; or to charge any person upon any agreement made upon consideration of marriage; or upon any contract or sale of lands, tenements or hereditaments, or any interest in or concerning them; or upon any agreement that is not to be performed within the space of one year from the making thereof: unless the agreement upon which such action shall be brought, or some memorandum or note thereof, shall be in writing, and signed by the party to be charged therewith, or some person thereunto by him lawfully authorized.

ARTICLE I. MARRIAGE.

SEC.	SEC.
3417. Who may contract matrimony	3420. Marriage when former husband or wife living; exceptions.
3418. Validity; if doubted, how affirmed; decree conclusive.	3421. Certain marriages legalized
3419. Court of Common Pleas; authority of on question of validity; proviso.	3422. Children of such marriages legitimized.
	3423. Intermarriage of races prohibited.

Who may contract matrimony.
Civ. '02, § 2658.

Section 3417. All persons, except idiots and lunatics, not prohibited by this Section, may lawfully contract matrimony. No man shall marry his mother, grandmother, daughter, granddaughter, stepmother, sister, grandfather's wife, son's wife, grandson's wife, wife's mother, wife's grandmother, wife's daughter, wife's granddaughter, brother's daughter, sister's daughter, father's sister, or mother's sister

A. D. 1912

No woman shall marry her father, grandfather, son, grandson, stepfather, brother, grandmother's husband, daughter's husband, granddaughter's husband, husband's father, husband's grandfather, husband's son, husband's grandson, brother's son, sister's son, father's brother, or mother's brother.

The promise of future marriage between parties living in concubinage does not make marriage, although that intercourse continue.—North v. Valk, Dud. Eq., 212. Nor will any engagements to marry in the future.—Fryer v. Fryer, Rich. Eq. Ca., 85. Marriage is a civil contract, whereby the parties take each other in presenti for man and wife.—Fryer v. Fryer, Rich. Eq. Ca., 85. Without any particular formality.—Stringfellow v. Scott, Rich. Eq. Ca., 109; Bowers v. Bowers, 10 Rich. Eq., 551; James v. Mickey, 25 S. C., 270. But proof that two persons lived together as man and wife is conclusive of their marriage, if not rebutted.—Allen v. Hall, 2 N. & McC., 114; State v. Hilton, Rich., 434. But where party has contracted a valid marriage and then marries a second time, his cohabitation and acknowledgment of the marriage relation between him and the second wife is not evidence of the validity of the second marriage.—State v. Whaley, 10 S. C., 500. Person non compos mentis cannot contract marriage.—Foster v. Means, Speer Eq., 569. Insanity in delirium tremens will avoid a contract of marriage.—Clement v. Mattison, 3 Rich., 93. Separation; power of court as to.—Rhame v. Rhame, 1 C. Eq., 197; Converse v. Converse, 9 Rich. Eq., 535. Domicile of husband that of the family, and it is the duty of the wife to follow him.—Hair v. Hair, 10 Rich. Eq., 163; Wise v. Wise, 60 S. C., 426; 38 S. E., 794. Hallums v. Hallums, 74 S. C., 407; 54 S. E., 613.

Sec. 3418. When the validity of a marriage shall be denied, how affirmed. Validity, if denied, how affirmed. Civ. '02, § 2659. Denied or doubted by either of the parties, the other may institute a suit for affirming the marriage; and, upon due proof of the validity thereof, it shall be decreed to be valid; and such decree shall be conclusive upon all persons concerned.

Sec. 3419. The Court of Common Pleas shall have authority to hear and determine any issue affecting the validity of contracts of marriage, and to declare said contracts void for want of consent of either of the contracting parties, or for any other cause going to show that, at the time the said proposed contract was made, it was not a contract: Provided, that such contract has not been consummated by the cohabitation of the parties thereto. Validity of, how determined and declared. Civ. '02, § 2660.

cases before Act.—Mattison v. Mattison, 1 Strob. Eq., 387; Duke v. Fullen, 5 Rich. Eq., 121; Bowers v. Bowers, 10 Rich. Eq., 551.

Sec. 3420. All marriages contracted while either of the parties has a former wife or husband living, shall be void: Provided, That this Section shall not extend to a person whose husband or wife shall be absent for the space of Marriages; when void. Proviso. Civ. '02, § 2661.

A. D. 1912.

seven years, the one not knowing the other to be living during that time; nor to any person who shall be divorced, or whose first marriage shall be declared void by the sentence of a competent Court.

As to the effect of husband being civilliter mortuus on property rights—Wright v. Wright, 2 DeSaus., 242. A husband being more than seven years absent, and reported to be dead or not heard from, the wife may marry again—Woods v. Woods, 2 Bay, 476; Boyce v. Owens, 1 Hill, 8. The first wife will be presumed to be alive until seven years after the time she was last heard of, unless shown to have died in the meantime.—Proctor v. McCall, 1 Bail., 298. The presumption arising from seven years' absence under this Section is of the fact of death only, and not as to the time thereof; but when the presumption is based upon the common law period of twenty years, it is that the death occurred at the commencement of that period.—Chapman v. Cooper, 5 Rich., 452. And where a wife marries within the seven years, the presumption of her innocence, with circumstances, may outweigh the presumption of the husband's living—Id. Where a husband married the second time, about six years after his absent wife was last known to be alive, but when he had received information by letter that she was dead, his marriage was held valid; she not having been heard of for forty years.—Canady v. George, 6 Rich. Eq., 103. But it seems that this presumption must be confined in its effect to exemption from charges of bigamy or other criminal and intentional violations of the marriage vows. If the absent husband return or be proved otherwise to be living at the time of the second marriage, the second marriage is void and the issue spurious.—Duke v. Palmer, 12 Rich. Eq., 121.

Rights and privileges conferred on certain marriages.

Civ. '02, § 2662.

Sec. 3421. All persons in this State who, previous to their actual emancipation, had undertaken and agreed to occupy the relation to each other of husband and wife and are cohabiting as such, or in any way recognizing the relation as still existing at the time of the passage of this Chapter, whether the rites of marriage have been celebrated or not, shall be deemed husband and wife, and be entitled to all the rights and privileges, and be subject to all the duties and obligations of that relation, in like manner as if they had been duly married according to law.

Robertson v. McCauley, 61 S. C., 411; 39 S. E., 570; Davenport v. Caldwell, 10 S. C., 317; State v. Whaley, 10 S. C., 500; Myers v. Ham, 20 S. C., 522; James v. Mickey, 26 S. C., 270; 2 S. E., 130. This Section applies equally to marriage of a free person of color with a slave, as where both parties were slaves.—Dingle v. Mitchell, 20 S. C., 502. Only intended to legalize such marriages as were morally good.—Clement v. Riley, 33 S. C., 66; 11 S. E., 609. Does not legalize a marriage of a free negro man with a slave where he afterwards, before emancipation, married a free woman of color.—Callahan v. Callahan, 36 S. C., 454; 15 S. E., 727.

Marriage of colored persons in 1868 governed by general law, applicable to white persons.—Ex parte Romans, 78 S. C., 210; 58 S. E., 614.

Sec. 3422. The children of such marriages shall be deemed legitimate; and when the parties shall have ceased to cohabit in consequence of the death of the woman or from other causes, all of the children of the woman, recognized by the man to be his, shall be deemed legitimate: Provided, however, That no provisions of Section 3421 and 3422 shall be deemed to extend to persons who have agreed to live in concubinage after their emancipation.

A. D. 1912;

Certain children legitimized.

Civ. '02, § 2663.

Davenport v. Caldwell, 10 S. C., 317; Dingle v. Mitchell, 20 S. C., 202; Myers v. Ham, 20 S. C., 522. Only intended to legitimize issue of marriages morally good.—Clement v. Riley, 33 S. C., 66; 11 S. E., 609. And to make the issue, when there has been a separation, the legitimate heirs of the mother.—Id. When a free man of color marries a slave, and then, before emancipation, marries a free woman of color, at his death both wives surviving, the children of both wives are his legal heirs.—Callahan v. Callahan, 36 S. C., 454; 15 S. E., 727.

Lloyd v. Rawl, 63 S. C., 219; 41 S. E., 312; Robertson v. McCaully, 61 S. C., 419; Knox v. Moore, 41 S. C., 355; Watson v. Elerbe, 77 S. C., 232; 7 S. E., 855.

Sec. 3423. It shall be unlawful for any white man to intermarry with any woman of either the Indian or negro races, or any mulatto, mestizo, or half-breed, or for any white woman to intermarry with any person other than a white man, or for any mulatto, half-breed, negro, Indian, or mestizo, to intermarry with a white woman; and any such marriage, or attempted marriage, shall be utterly null and void and of none effect.

Intermarriage of races prohibited.

ARTICLE II.

CERTAIN RIGHTS AND LIABILITIES OF HUSBAND AND WIFE.

Sec. 3424. Married women may hold property separate from their husbands.
3425. Earnings of married women her separate estate.
3426. May bequeath and convey, as if unmarried; property descends as does property of husband.

Sec. 3427. May purchase property, take conveyances, and make contracts, as if unmarried; husband not liable for debts of wife.
3428. Marriage settlements must describe property included therein or have a schedule annexed.
3429. Tenancy by courtesy abolished.

Section 3424. The real and personal property of a married woman, whether held by her at the time of her marriage or accrued to her thereafter, either by gift, grant, inheritance, devise, purchase, or otherwise, shall not be subject to levy and sale for her husband's debts, but shall be her separate property.

As to tenancy by entirety.—Bomar v. Mullins, 4 Rich. Eq., 80; McLeod v. Tarrant, 39 S. C., 271; 17 S. E., 773; 20 L. R. A., 846; G., C. & N. Ry. Co. v. Scott, 38 S. C., 84; 16 S. E., 185, 839.

Under this Section, and Const. Art. XVII., Sec. 9, a married woman may maintain an action for damages for an unauthorized levy on her property to satisfy her husband's debt.—Holtzclaw v. Gassaway, 52 S. C., 551; 30 S. E. 399. Before the Constitution of 1868 a wife could exercise no powers over property settled to her use except those conferred by the instrument creating the trust.—Reid v. Lamar, 1 Strob. Eq., 27; Creighton v. Clifford, 6 S. C. 188; Witsell v. Charleston, 7 S. C., 88; Oliver v. Grimbail, 14 S. C., 334. This Section not retrospective, and the vested rights of the husband in lands of wife before the Constitution of 1868 not affected thereby.—Bouknight v. Epling, 11 S. C., 71; Shuler v. Bull, 15 S. C., 421. Nor are vested rights of creditors affected thereby.—Clawson v. Hutchinson, 11 S. C., 323. Such Constitution did not make a settlement upon the wife of her lands acquired before.—Id. But her interest in land acquired before it is her separate property.—Kincaid v. Anderson, 33 S. C., 260; 11 S. E., 766. So in personalty not reduced to possession.—Trustees v. Bryson, 34 S. C., 401; 13 S. E. 619. Such construction would make it violative of the Constitution of the United States.—Id. But in construing the acts of a married woman as to her separate estate prior thereto, the Constitution of 1868 may be looked to as showing the policy of the State as to control of married women over their separate estates.—Oliver v. Grimbail, 14 S. C., 556. The Constitution of 1868 only intended to protect the property of a married woman and not to confer new powers upon her by a change of her legal status.—Peiser v. Campbell, 15 S. C., 581; Townsend v. Brown, 16 S. C., 92; Aultman v. Rush, 26 S. C., 517; 2 S. E., 402; Bridgers v. Howell, 27 S. C., 425; 3 S. E., 790; Gwynn v. Gwynn, 27 S. C., 525; 4 S. E., 229. It did not empower her to mortgage her separate estate.—Aultman v. Rush, 26 S. C., 517; 2 S. E., 402. It gave her no general power to contract.—Gwynn v. Gwynn, 27 S. C., 525; 4 S. E., 229. Since the Constitution of 1868 a married woman may acquire separate property by gift from her husband.—State v. Pitts, 12 S. C., 180; Gerald v. Gerald, 28 S. C., 442; 6 S. E., 290; Grantham v. Grantham, 34 S. C., 504; 13 S. E., 675. But mere use and enjoyment of personal property purchased by her husband does not create her separate estate therein.—Id. A bequest to a daughter by a father in 1861, to be free from debts and control of husband, could be properly paid to the daughter herself after the Constitution of 1868.—Witte v. Clarke, 17 S. C., 313. What is her separate property.—DeLoach v. Sarratt, 55 S. C., 254; 32 S. E., 2.

But has no such power where the trustee has contrary power.—Rabb v. Flenniken, 38 S. C., 278; 7 S. E., 597. As to her separate property, there may be differences between the wife and her husband, as if she were a covert.—McLure v. Lancaster, 24 S. C., 278. A gift from her to her husband may be inferred. Id. This Section does not confer the power to make such legal instruments, but only declares the mode of their execution in pursuance of power elsewhere given. Aultman v. Rush, 26 S. C., 517; 2 S. E., 402. And giving security by mortgage is neither a bequest, a devise nor an alienation.—Id. Her power to sell is not limited to "a sale, pure and simple, for valuable consideration," benefiting her separate estate; but allows disposition by gift or otherwise.—*Booker v. Liability of husband.

The provision relieving the husband of his common law liability for debts of his wife was held not retrospective in Clawson v. Hutchinson, 11 S. C., 166; Terry v. Hopkins, 1 Hill. Eq., 1. While a married woman had absolute power to convey, where she gave a power of sale in a mortgage as security the power fell with mortgage.—Dunbar v. Foreman, 40 S. C., 490; 19 S. E., 186.

This Section, so far as it purports to enlarge the powers of a married woman, beyond the terms of the Constitution of 1868 on that subject is within the plenary power of the Legislature and not unconstitutional.—Pelzer v. Campbell, 15 S. C., 581. While it gives the power to purchase, it does not give the power to execute a mortgage to secure the purchase for her husband.—Aultman v. Gilbert, 28 S. C., 303; 5 S. A judgment confessed by a married woman is valid having been renewed in 1876 and 1883, is valid.—Crenshaw v. Julian, 22 S. C., 283; 2 S. E., 133. Subsequent to the Act of 1882, and prior to the Act of 1887, a married woman could only make such contracts as actually related to her separate property, and cannot otherwise bind herself.—Habenicht v. Rawls, 24 S. C., 461; Aultman v. Rush, 26 S. C., 517; 2 S. E., 402; Brown v. Thompson, 27 S. C., 500; 4 S. E., 345; Gwynn v. Gwynn, 27 S. C., 436; 4 S. E., 220; Brown v. Prevost, 28 S. A mere declaration of intention to bind her separate estate was not sufficient.—Hibernia Institution v. Luhn, 34 S. C., 175; 13 S. E., 357. But it is not necessary for party enforcing contract to show that it was so made.—Taylor v. Barker, 30 S. C., 288; 9 S. E., 115; Brown v. Thompson, 31 S. C., 436; 7 S. E., 610; *Chambers v. But she is estopped when the representation is made in her negotiable note, and she is sued by a bona fide endorsee thereof.—Nott v. Thompson, 35 S. C., 461; 14 S. E., 940. It is not necessary that contract did prove to benefit her separate estate.—Howard v. Kitchens, 31 S. C., 490. A writ of venire without the seal of the Court is void, and is ground for rest of judgment.—State v. Dozler, 2 Speer; State v. Williams, 1 Rich., 18; State v. Stephens, 11 S. C., 319. No venire can issue for talesmen.—State v. Williams, 2 Hill, 381; State v. Stephens, 11 S. C., 319; State v. Hill, 19 S. C., 435. Defect in such writ, if issued, is no ground for arrest of judgment.—State v. Hill, 19 S. C., 435; State v. Gilreath, 19 S. C., 603. Venire need not be signed by Attorney General or Solicitor.—State v. Hill, 19 S. C., 435. If it anywhere appears in the writ that it is issued in the name of the State, that is sufficient compliance with Constitution.—Id. The failure of Sheriff to endorse on the venire its entry in his office does not validate it.—State v. Clayton, 11 Rich., 581. Where contrary does not appear the service will be presumed to be correct.—State v. McGraw, 35 S. C., 283; 14 S. E., 630.

A. D. 1912.

The drawing is invalid, and it is good ground of challenge to the array, if the Jury Commissioner, who assisted, is a near blood relation of the deceased.—State v. McQuaige, 5 S. C., 429. Not so where the relationship was by marriage and remote.—State v. McNinch, 12 S. C., 89. The absence of one of the Board of Jury Commissioners does not invalidate the drawing.—State v. Merriman, 34 S. C., 16; 14 S. E., 394. If jury illegally drawn judgment will be arrested.—State v. Jennings, 15 Rich., 42.

State v. Stephens, 13 S. C., 285; State v. Clyburn, 16 S. E., 375; State v. Jackson, 32 S. C., 27; 10 S. E., 769.

See Criminal Statutes as to Grand Jurors.

Immaterial irregularity in summoning the jury does not affect their legality.—State v. Crosby, Harp., 91; State v. McElmurray, 3 Stroh., 23; State v. Jeffcoat, 26 S. C., 114; 1 S. E., 440. Jurors summoned by an acting Deputy Sheriff and serving are lawful.—State v. McGraw, 35 S. C., 283; 14 S. E., 630.

Court will presume that Sheriff read the venire to juror.—State v. Toland, 36 S. C., 515; 15 S. E., 599. Residence is place of abode.—Id. Sheriff may make return the day Court opens, but he must make it before the hour Court opens.—Id. Service by deputy good, although no endorsement in writing of his appointment upon the venire.—Id. Failure of Sheriff to serve a juror of the County does not affect the array.—State v. Derrick, 44 S. C., 175; 2 S. E., 337. In the absence of proof to the contrary it will be presumed that the venires were properly served.—State v. McGraw, 35 S. C., 283; 14 S. E., 630.

This drawing was properly made from such special apartment, when, in the presence of the Court, the Board of Jury Commissioners took from the jury box the names of residents designated and then drew the required number. The law providing for such special apartment not having been passed at the time when the jury was originally drawn.—State v. Cardozo, 11 S. C., 195; State v. Smalls, 11 S. C., 262. It is not necessary for all the parties designated to draw such jurors to see the drawing of the names; it may be done by a majority of them.—State v. White, 15 S. C., 381. The regular jurors may be exhausted before the drawing can be made.—State v. Anderson, 26 S. C., 601; 2 S. E., 699. It does not vitiate such drawing that only 148 names were put in special apartment.—State v. Merriman, 34 S. C., 16; 12 S. E., 619. No venire is necessary to summon the jurors so drawn as talesmen.—State v. Williams, 2 Hill, 381; State v. Stephens, 11 S. C., 319; State v. Hill, 19 S. C., 435; State v. Anderson, 26 S. C., 601; 2 S. E., 699; State v. Merriman, 34 S. C., 16; 12 S. E., 619. Although it may be done by venire.—State v. Coleman, 8 S. C., 237. When the regular and special apartments of the jury have both been exhausted, the deficiency should be supplied by issuing a venire for additional jurors as herein prescribed; the trial should not be postponed.—State v. Briggs, 27 S. C., 80; 2 S. E., 854. There can be no challenge to array of jurors drawn to supply such deficiency; each juror may be challenged for reason.—State v. Merriman, 34 S. C., 16; 12 S. E., 619.

State v. Powers, 59 S. C., 367; 37 S. E., 690; State v. Toland, 36 S. C., 515; 15 S. E., 599.

Title vests in the State at death of owner; it is vested by this judgment of the Court.—City Council v. Large, 1 Mill., 454; Harlock v. Jackson, 3 Brev., 254.

Sec. 3751. As soon as the Escheator shall receive the process in the preceding Section mentioned, he shall advertise the sale of said lands in a newspaper of the County, or other nearest gazette, and, also, in the most public places of the County in which the lands lie (giving six weeks' public notice), on a credit of twelve months, payable in lawful money; and shall, moreover, take good and sufficient surety, and a mortgage of the premises, before the title shall be altered or changed.

Sales to be advertised for six weeks.

2983.

A. D. 1912.

Bodden v. Spelgner, 2 Brev., 321; Ex parte Malone, 21 S. C., 435.

Lands may be divided into smaller tracts; proceeds of sale to be paid into Treasury.

Civ. '02, § 2984.

Sec. 3752. Where the lands shall exceed six hundred acres, and can be divided into smaller tracts with advantage to the State in the sale thereof, the Escheator shall cause the same to be divided in such manner as shall be most beneficial to the State; and the proceeds arising from such sale shall be forthwith paid into the public treasury whenever the same shall become due and recovered.

Persons making good title within five years to have compensation.

Civ. '02, § 2985.

Sec. 3753. If any person shall appear, within five years, and make good title to such lands, in the Court of Common Pleas, on an issue tried, he shall forthwith receive adequate compensation.

Ex parte Williams, 13 Rich., 77.

Lands to be committed to claimant on his giving security, &c.

Civ. '02, § 2986.

Sec. 3754. Any person, without delay, shall be heard on a traverse, in the Court of Common Pleas, on a petition setting forth his rights, and the said lands shall be committed to him, if he shall show good evidence of his title, to hold until the right shall be found and discussed for the State and the claimant; such claimant finding sufficient security to prosecute his suit to effect, and without delay, and to render to the State the yearly value of such lands, if the right be found for the State.

This Section does not give traverses of escheat precedence on docket.—Lance v. Dobson, Riley, 301. Each traverse is a separate case and should be tried separately.—McCaw v. Galbraith, 7 Rich., 74; In re Malone, 21 S. C. 435.

Where no claimant appears, escheators to rent lands, &c.; escheator liable for damages if he prosecutes without probable cause.

Civ. '02, § 2987.

Sec. 3755. Where no claimant shall appear to make title as aforesaid, the Escheators shall rent out the escheated lands, if the same can be done with advantage to the State, until the process of escheat shall be concluded and the lands sold: Provided, nevertheless, That if any suit for property supposed to be escheated shall be prosecuted by any Escheator, and the jury before whom such trial shall be had shall think there is no probable case, such jury are authorized and required to assess and award to the party grieved such damages as they shall think proper.

Sec. 3756. The State shall not be precluded by possession, grant, conveyance, or any other cause or title, from making inquest and sale of all such lands as have heretofore escheated to the State by the death of the person last seized hereof; any law, custom or usage to the contrary notwithstanding: Provided, That no lands claimed under grant, or under an actual possession for five years, prior to the fourth of July, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-six, shall be affected by this Section.

State not precluded from making inquest, &c.; not to affect lands claimed under grants, &c., for five years prior to July 4, 1776.

Statute of Limitations cannot bar an escheat.—Harlock v. Jackson, 3 Brev., 254. But escheat cannot operate against one who has acquired title by possession before death of person in whose name the property is escheated.—Wilkins v. Tart, 3 McC., 518. A grant of five years' previous possession before 4th July, 1776, exempts from escheat.—Warwick v. Wightman, 1 Brev., 331; Wilkins v. Tart, 3 McC., 518.

Civ. '02, § 2988.

Sec. 3757. Where any moneys or other personal estate shall be found in the hands of an executor or administrator, being the property of any person heretofore deceased, or hereafter dying, and leaving no person entitled to claim, and without making disposition of the same, the Escheator of the County where such chattels shall be found, or the Attorney-General, on behalf of the State, shall and may sue for, recover, and pay the same into the treasury of the State.

Personal estate to which there is no heir, shall revert to the State.

Civ. '02, § 2989.

The term escheat applies to personalty as well as realty.—Howard v. Schmidt, Rich. Eq. Ca., 452. The escheator stands in place of distributees, and can only bring such action against the legal representative of the person whose property is escheated, and not against the administrator of his administrator.—Gill v. Douglass, 2 Ball., 387. Such administrator is liable for interest on fund during litigation.—Howard v. Schmidt, Rich. Eq. Ca., 452.

Sec. 3758. The State Treasurer, for the time being, shall advertise such chattels in some newspaper, once in every month, for six months, in like manner as lands are hereinbefore directed to be advertised; and if no person shall appear and make good title to such personal estate within two years thereafter, other than as executor or administrator, or their legal representatives, then such personal estate shall become vested in and applied to the use of the State.

State Treasurer to advertise same for six months; if not claimed in two years, to vest in State.

Civ. '02, § 2990.

Sec. 3759. Nothing herein contained shall prejudice the rights of individuals having legal title, and who may be under the disabilities of infancy, coverture, lunacy, or beyond the limits of the United States, until three years after such disabilities shall be removed.

Rights of persons under disabilities reserved for three years after their removal.

Civ. '02, § 2991.

Applied.—Ex parte Williams, 13 Rich., 77. This Section saves only the right to traverse an inquisition of escheat; it cannot divest a title acquired by possession under Section 3756, or under Act 1712.—Warnock v. Wightman, 1 Brev., 331.

Every part of this Chapter, and the mode therein prescribed for recovering and appropriating real and personal property escheated to the State, shall be pursued and observed when any person shall hereafter die without heir, or become divested thereof by operation of law, without leaving any legal representative.

Civ. '02, §
2993.

Sec. 3761. No property shall be vested in the State, or any inquisition had by the Escheator, where any person or persons shall have committed or may commit any felony against the State; but the said property shall descend to, and be vested in, the representatives of such person or persons.

Not to con-

Sec. 3762. Nothing in this Chapter contained shall be construed to extend to or contravene any treaty or agreement that is or may be entered into between the United States of America and any foreign prince, state, or potentate, on the subject of descents and inheritances.

Commissions
of escheators.

Civ. '02, §
2995.

Sec. 3763. Every Escheator shall, as a compensation for his trouble, cost, and charges in the discharge of his duty, be entitled to receive the commission of two and a half per cent. out of all moneys which, in virtue of this Chapter, shall be paid by him into the treasury; and where any person or persons shall appear and make title to lands or personal estate, after office found by the jury, the Court shall have power to assess such reasonable costs and charges as the Escheator has sustained in promoting the claim of the State, except in cases where he has already received his commissions.

Escheators not to purchase escheat-
ed estates;
penalty.

Civ. '02, §
2996.

Sec. 3764. No Escheator, or person acting as such, shall directly or indirectly, either by himself or any person whomsoever, purchase, or be concerned with any person or persons in purchasing any escheated lands, without being subject and liable to the payment of five thousand dollars to be sued for and recovered in any Court of record, one-half for the benefit of the informer, who shall sue for and recover the same, and the other half to be applied to the use of the State; and the said Escheator shall also be rendered incapable of holding or exercising any office of trust or emolument therein.

A. D. 1912.Penalty for neglect.

Civ. '02, §
2997.

Sec. 3765. If any Escheator shall fail to do his duty, as herein directed, on behalf of the State, and any loss or damage shall accrue to the State by his misconduct and fraudulent practices, he shall be responsible for all such loss or damage, and the Court of Common Pleas shall have power and authority to order a prosecution in the name of the State; and the jury shall try the fact, and assess the damages; and, upon conviction, such Escheator or Escheators shall be incapable forever thereafter from holding any place of trust or profit within this State.

Civ. '02, § 3008.

Section 3780. Any person to whom a debt is due for labor performed or furnished, or for materials furnished and actually used in the erection, alteration, or repair of any building or structure upon any real estate, by virtue of an agreement with, or by consent of, the owner of such building or structure, or any person having authority from one rightfully acting for, such owner, in procuring or furnishing such labor or materials, shall have a lien upon such building or structure, and upon the interest of the owner thereof in the lot of land upon which the same is situated, to secure the payment of the debt so due to him, and the costs which may arise in enforcing such lien under this Chapter, except as is provided in the following Section.

The Section does not give a lien to sub-contractors.—Kelly v. Bank, Me. Eq., 481; Murray v. Earle, 13 S. C., 87; Gray v. Walker, 16 S. C., 143; Geddes v. Bowden, 19 S. C., 1. A contract with one who then owned all the stock of an incorporated bridge company for repairs of the bridge gives no lien on it.—Watson v. Columbia Bridge Co., 18 S. C., 433. Consent means an agreement of legal force.—Gray v. Walker, 16 S. C., 143; Geddes v. Bowden, 19 S. C., 1. Mere knowledge by the agent of the owner of such labor does not amount to such consent.—Gray v. Walker, 16 S. C., 143. Such lien upon a building and upon "the interest of the owner thereof in the lot of land upon which the same is situated" includes several adjoining lots enclosed by a common fence and used for the same purpose.—Ex parte Davis, 9 S. C., 204. Such lien may be waived by mechanic.—Murray v. Earle, 13 S. C., 87.

Accepting benefits of contract with knowledge shows consent thereto.—Builders' Supply Co. v. North Augusta Electric & Improvement Co., 71 S. C., 361; 51 S. E., 231. No counter-claim, only set off, can be interposed in proceedings to enforce lien.—Tenney v. Power Co., 62 S. C., 11; 45 S. E. 111; 60 S. C., 484; 48 S. E., 460.

Unliquidated damages for failure to complete the work in proper time may be set up as a defense to action.—Spears v. Durant, 76 S. C., 19; 56 S. E., 65; Tenney v. Power Co., 69 S. C., 48; 48 S. E., 457. Definition of "owner."—Metz v. Critcher, 83 S. C., 396; 65 S. E., 394.

How a sub-contractor may obtain a lien.

Civ. '02, § 3009.

Sec. 3781. Any sub-contractor or person contracting with an original contractor may have such a lien: Provided, That before performing or furnishing labor or furnishing materials, or both, he do give notice in writing to the owner of the property to be affected thereby, (or to the lawful agent of the owner if the original contract was made by and through such agent) and also to the original contractor.

A. D. 1912,

or, that he intends to claim such a lien: And Provided, further, That the aggregate amount of any and all such liens and of the lien of the original contractor shall not exceed the amount of the lien of the original contractor; and any and all questions between an original contractor and a sub-contractor or contractors, and between sub-contractors, shall be first adjusted and settled before the owner can be required to pay, on his contract, anything to any of such contractors.

Proviso.

Notice need not be given where the purchaser of the material is the owner of the property.—Matthews v. Monts, 61 E. C., 385; 39 S. E., 575.

Devereaux v. Taft, 20 S. C., 538.

Sec. 3783. The owner of any such building or structure in process of erection, or being altered or repaired, other than the party by whom or in whose behalf a contract for labor or materials has been made, may prevent the attaching of any lien for labor thereon not at the time performed, or materials not then furnished, by giving notice, in writing, to the person performing or furnishing such labor, or furnishing such materials, that he will not be responsible therefor.

No inaccuracy in such statement, relating to the property to be covered by the lien, if the property can be reasonably recognized, or in stating the amount due for labor or materials, shall invalidate the proceedings, unless it appear that the person filing the certificate has wilfully and knowingly claimed more than is his due.

Sec. 3794. If it appears to the Court that any of the parties entitled to notice are absent, or that they cannot probably be found to be served with the notice, the Court may, instead of the personal notice before mentioned, or in addition thereto, order notice to all persons interested, by publishing in some newspaper the substance of the petition, Claims may be proved and contested.

Civ. '02, § 3024.

Sec. 3796. At the time assigned for the hearing, or within such further time as the Court allows for that purpose, every creditor having a lien of the kind before mentioned upon the same property, may appear and prove his claim; and the owner and each of the creditors may contest the several claims of every other creditor, and the Court shall hear and determine them in a summary manner, either with or without jury, as the case may require.

Jury to try facts.

Civ. '02, § 3025.

Sec. 3797. Every material question of fact arising in the case shall be submitted to a jury, if required by either party, or deemed proper by the Court; and the trial shall be had upon a question stated, or an issue framed, or otherwise, as the Court may order. A jury shall be had before a Magistrate only as in other civil cases.

A. D. 1912,

No personal judgment can be given in this proceeding for any deficiency that may be after such sale.—Johnson v. Frazee, 20 S. C., 500.

Part may be sold if sufficient.

Civ. '02, § 3029.

Sec. 3802. The officer who makes the sale shall give notice of the time and place in the manner prescribed in relation to the sale of mortgaged lands under foreclosure, unless the Court orders a different notice to be given.

Notice of sale.

Civ. '02, § 3030.

Sec. 3803. If all the claims against the property covered by the lien are ascertained at the time of ordering the sale, the Court may order the officer to pay over and distribute the proceeds of the sale, after deducting all lawful charges and expenses, to and among the several creditors, to the amount of their respective debts, if there is sufficient therefor; and if there is not sufficient, then to divide and distribute the same among the creditors, in proportion to the amount due to each of them.

Distribution of proceeds of sale.

Civ. '02, § 3031.

Sec. 3804. If all the claims are not ascertained when the sale is ordered, or if for any other reason the Court finds it necessary or proper to postpone the order of distribution, it may direct the officer to bring the proceeds of the sale into Court, there to be disposed of according to the decree of the Court, and if, by reason of the claims of attaching creditors, or for any other cause, the whole cannot be conveniently distributed at once, the Court may make two or more successive orders of distribution, as the circumstances may require.

Proceeds may be brought into Court, and successive distributions made.

Civ. '02, § 3032.

Such proportion may be applied to satisfy execution.

Civ. '02, § 3035.

Sec. 3807. If the attaching creditor recovers judgment, he shall be entitled to receive on his execution the proportion of the proceeds held subject to his attachment, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy his execution, and the residue of the proceeds shall be applied in the same manner as if there had been no such attachment.

Subsequent attachment to be satisfied after lien.

Civ. '02, § 3036.

Civ. '02, § 3038.

Sec. 3810. shall bind his whole estate and interest therein in like manner as a mortgage would have done, and the creditor may cause the right of redemption, or whatever other right or estate the owner had in the property, to be sold and applied to the discharge of his debt according to the provisions of this Chapter.

Sec. 3812. If the person indebted dies or conveys away his estate or interest before the commencement of a suit on the contract, the suit may be commenced and prosecuted against his heirs or whoever holds the estate or interest which he had in the premises at the time the labor or materials were performed or furnished; or, if a suit is commenced in his lifetime, it may be prosecuted against his executors, administrators, heirs, or assigns, in like manner as if the estate or interest had been mortgaged to secure the debt.

If it appears, in any stage of the proceedings, that the suit was commenced by the petitioning creditor before his right of action accrued, or after it was barred, or if he become nonsuit, or fail to establish his claims, suit may be prosecuted by any other creditor having such lien, in the same manner as if it had been originally commenced by him, if the circumstances of the case are such that he might then, or at any time after the commencement of the original suit, have commenced a like suit on his own claim.

Suits begun by one creditor may be prosecuted by another.

Civ. '02, § 3042.

Sec. 3815. If the suit is commenced by the petitioning creditor before his right of action accrues, his claim may nevertheless be allowed, if the suit is carried on by any other creditor, as provided in the preceding Section; but he shall not, in such case, be entitled to costs; and he may be required to pay the costs incurred by the debtor, or such part thereof as the Court may deem reasonable.

Said lien shall be subject to all the provisions and be enforced in the same manner as provided for in Article 2 of this Chapter, relating to liens on lands or buildings for the labor and materials.

Lien of landlord for rent and advances on crops raised on leased premises.

1906, XXV, 82.

Section 3829. Every landlord leasing land for agricultural purposes shall have a prior and preferred lien for his rent to the extent of all crops raised on the lands leased by him, whether the same be raised by the tenant or other person. No writing or recording shall be necessary to create such lien, but it shall exist from the date of the contract, whether the same be in writing or verbal, and the landlord and his assigns shall have the right to enforce such lien in the same manner, upon the same conditions, and subject to the same restrictions, as are provided in this Article for persons making advances for agricultural purposes. And subject to the liens hereinafter provided for and enforceable in the same way, the landlord and his assigns shall have a lien on all the crops raised by the tenant for all advances made by the landlord to such tenant during the year.

The contract carries with it a lien without an express agreement for it.—Carter v. DuPre, 18 S. C., 179. The lien is not defeated by taking a writing under seal for the rent.—Sullivan v. Ellison, 20 S. C., 481. Rent payable in cotton is secured by such lien.—State v. Reader, 36 S. C., 497; 15 S. E. 544. It seems that such rent, although payable monthly, has such preferred lien over liens given for supplies.—Brewster v. McNab, 36 S. C., 274; 15 S. E. 233. Magistrate has jurisdiction where amount claimed does not exceed $100.—So. Ry. Co. v. Sarratt, 58 S. C., 98; 36 S. E., 505.

An agreement to give an agricultural lien does not create an equitable mortgage.—Creech v. Long, 77 S. C., 25; 51 S. E., 614. Lease of agricultural purposes. Manure belongs to landlord.—Roberts v. Jones, 71 S. C., 404; 51 S. E., 240. Assignment of lien for advances sustained.—State v. Elmore, 62 S. C., 140; 46 S. E., 939. Proceeds of crops under lien must be applied to lien.—Barfield v. Coker, 73 S. C., 181; 53 S. E., 170.

A. D. 1912,

Sec. 3830. Laborers who assist in making any crop on ares, or for wages in money or other valuable consideraon, shall have a lien thereon to the extent of the amount re them for such labor, next in priority to the lien of the ndlord for rent; and as between such laborers there shall no preference. Such portion of the crop to them belong-g, or such amount of money or other valuable consideraon as may be due them, shall be recoverable by an action in y Court of competent jurisdiction.

Civ. '02, §
 3058.

Laborer not entitled to such rights unless the contract is reduced to writ-g.—Hair v. Blease, 8 S. C., 63. Laborer cannot bind share in crops by a n for advances.—Carpenter v. Strickland, 20 S. C., 1; Richey v. DuPre, S. C., 6. Contract with laborer.—McCutchen v. Crenshaw, 19 S. E., 140;
 S. C., 511.

Sec. 3831. The landlord shall have a lien upon the crops f his tenant for his rent in preference to all other liens.
 laborers who assist in making any crop shall have a lien ereon to the extent of the amount due them for such bor, next in priority to the landlord, and as between such borers there shall be no preference. All other liens for gricultural supplies shall be paid next after the satisfac-on of the liens of the landlord and laborers, and shall ank in other respects as they do now under existing laws.

 labor, and for supplies.

Civ. '02, §
 3060.

If senior lieenee by agreement permit a third person to take and apply to a unsecured claim enough of the crops to pay his own debt without notice to nior lieenee he cannot afterwards maintain an action against the junior enee for the crops seized by him and applied to his lien debt.—Hankinson . Hankinson, 61 S. C., 193; 39 S. E., 385. Before the Act of 1885, this reference of landlord's lien for rent without recorded agreement only tended to one-third of the crop.—Kennedy v. Reames, 15 S. C., 548; Whaley
 . Jacobson, 21 S. C., 51.

State v. Lanier, 79 S. C., 108; 60 S. E., 225.

Sec. 3832. Every lien for advances shall be indexed in he office of the Register of Mesne Conveyances, or Clerk of he Court, (where the office of Register of Mesne Convey-nce does not exist,) of the County in which the lienor resides within thirty days from the date of the lien, and he indexing of the said lien shall constitute notice thereof o all third persons and entitle the same to the benefit of his Article. Said index shall show the names of the lienor and lieenee, the date and amount of lien, and a brief description of the place so cultivated; and said indexing shall be a sufficient record of the same, and the property covered by such lien, so indexed as aforesaid, if found in the hands of subsequent purchasers or creditors, shall be deemed liable to said lien. The Clerk of Court or Register of Mesne Conveyances, as the case may be, shall endorse his official certificate upon every lien on a crop or crops filed in his office under the provisions of this Article, and his only fee for filing, indexing and certifying the same shall be fifteen cents for each lien so filed, indexed and indorsed.

Under the Act of 1878, before its amendment, the lien had to be kept on file in Clerk's office as well as indexed.—Sternberger v. McSween, 14 S. C. 35. If not indexed the lien is good between the parties and enforceable by warrant.—Lyons v. Tedder, 7 S. C., 60. But an unrecorded lien of landlord for advances does not avail against a merchant's recorded lien for advances.—Whaley v. Jacobson, 21 S. C., 51.

Party taking proceeds of property on which lien exists becomes liable for money had and received.—Link v. Barksdale, 70 S. C., 487; 50 S. E., 189. Parks v. Laurens Cotton Mills, 70 S. C., 274; 49 S. E., 871.

Clerk may arrest unlawful sale of crop.

Civ. '02, §
8062.

Sec. 3833. If any person making such advances shall prove, by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the Clerk of the Court of the County in which such crop is, that the person to whom such advances have been made is about to sell or dispose of his crop, or in any other way is about to defeat the lien hereinbefore provided for, accompanied with a statement of the amount then due, it shall be lawful for him to issue his warrant, directed to any of the Sheriffs of this State, requiring them to seize the said crop, and, after due notice, sell the same for cash, and pay over the net proceeds thereof, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in extinguishment of the amount then due: Provided, however, That if the person to whom such advances have been made shall, within thirty days after such sale has been made, give notice in writing to the Sheriff, accompanied with an affidavit to this effect, that the amount claimed is not justly due, then it shall be the duty of the said Sheriff to hold the proceeds of such sale subject to the decision of the Court upon an issue which shall be made up and set down for trial at the next succeeding term of the Court of Common Pleas for the County in which the person to whom such advances have been made resides, in which the person who makes such advances shall be the actor.

Sufficiency of affidavit.—Doty v. Boyd, 46 S. C., 39; 24 S. E., 59. The lien is strictly limited to this remedy to enforce his lien.—Kennedy v. Reames, 15 S. C., 548. The affidavit is fatally defective unless it state the facts required to obtain the warrant.—Segler v. Coward, 24 S. C., 119. The warrant can be issued only by the Clerk, and served only by the Sheriff.—Jones v. Clarkson, 16 S. C., 628. It cannot issue on liens for advances made

A. D. 1912,

e agreement for a lien was in writing and signed by the party charged.— Carpenter v. Strickland, 20 S. C., 1. Sheriff cannot, under such warrant, take the crops already distrained and taken into possession by the landlord for rent without payment of the rent.—Brewster v. McNab, 36 S. C., 274; S. E., 233. The seizure of the crop may be made elsewhere than on the land where it is made.—Visanski v. Bradley, 4 S. C., 288. The only issue to be determined under notice to the Sheriff is, whether the amount claimed is justly due.—Johnstone v. Manigault, 13 S. C., 403. If affidavit deny any indebtedness under the lien, that is sufficient.—Warren v. Lawton, 14 S. C., 476. Such notice and affidavit, when filed with the Clerk, raise the issue sufficiently for trial, and no order of Court is necessary to frame such issue.—
 Johnstone v. Manigault, 13 S. C., 403; Warren v. Lawton, 14 S. C., 476.
 The lienor is the actor in the Court contesting the claim of lienor.—Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. v. Kirven, 57 S. C., 445; 37 S. C., 745. Damages for failure to advance supplies, as agreed, not recoverable hereunder.—Davis v.
 Schmidt, 22 S. C., 128. This remedy of the lienor is not exclusive of other remedies.—Segler v. Coward, 24 S. C., 119. Lienor entitled to costs as witness at trial of such issue.—Winsmith v. Dewberry, 14 S. C., 554. Appeal lies from judgment in this proceeding.—Johnstone v. Manigault, 13 S. C., 403.

Sec. 3834. When any person shall have made advances for agricultural purposes and shall have secured lien upon the crop or crops of the person to whom such advances may be made, according to the provisions of law relating to agricultural liens, and the amount of such advances do not exceed one hundred dollars, it shall be lawful for any Magistrate of the County in which such lien is indexed, upon the production of said lien and the proof required in cases where Clerks of the Court may issue warrants, to issue his warrant directed to a Constable or the Sheriff of the County, requiring him to seize said crop or crops, and after due notice sell the same for cash and apply the net proceeds thereof, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in extinguishment of said lien: Provided, That if the person to whom such advances have been made shall give notice in writing, within ten days after such seizure, accompanied with an affidavit to the effect that the amount claimed is not justly due, then the Magistrate issuing the warrant shall, at the expiration of twenty days, decide an issue which shall be made up, in which the person who may have made such advances shall be the actor.

This Section shall be construed to prevent Clerks of the Court from issuing warrants to enforce agricultural liens in all cases as in this Article provided.

The costs and fees of Magistrates for enforcement of agricultural liens shall be the same as for Clerks of Court in similar cases; and Constables in Magistrates' Courts shall Amount of bond.

Sec. 3835. The affidavit and statements to be used to obtain any warrant of seizure provided for in this Article shall conform, as nearly as may be, to the practice regulating the issuing of warrants of attachment under the Code of Procedure; and the persons against whom it is issued shall have the right to move before the Clerk of the Court or Magistrate by whom it is issued, or a Circuit Judge, to vacate said warrant of seizure for any of the causes which would be sufficient to vacate a warrant of attachment issued under the Code of Procedure.

Before issuing such warrant, the officer to whom application therefor is made shall require the party applying to enter into an undertaking, with sufficient surety, to the effect that he will pay to the party whose crops are to be attached or seized such costs as may be awarded to him should said warrant be set aside, and all damages that he may sustain in consequence of the issuing of such warrant, if it should be decided by any Court of competent jurisdiction that the same had been illegally or improvidently issued, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking which shall be at least two hundred and fifty dollars, except in case of a warrant issued by a Magistrate, when it shall be at least twenty-five dollars.

The only conformity to the attachment law required is in the affidavit and statements, not in the subsequent proceedings.—Blair v. Morgan, 59 S. C., 52; 37 S. E., 45; So. Ry. Co. v. Sarratt, 58 S. C., 98; 36 S. E., 505. Failure to file affidavits.—Townsend v. Sparks, 50 S. C., 380; 27 S. E., 801; Doty v. Boyd, 46 S. C., 89; 24 S. E., 59. Time within which motion to vacate may be made.—Kennedy v. Dunbar, 46 S. C., 517; 24 S. E., 383. The Circuit Judge can vacate an unlawful warrant of seizure at chambers.—Seigler v. Coward, 24 S. C., 119. On motion therefor the Judge cannot consider facts not appearing in affidavit submitted to the Clerk.—Segler v. Coward, 24 S. C., 119.

Filing undertaking is jurisdictional, damages for seizure where undertaking was not filed.—Forrester v. McBee, 72 S. C., 189; 51 S. E., 675.

Sec. 3836. In case any portion of the crop is removed from the land rented or leased, and the proceeds thereof not applied to the payment of the rent for the year, or to the other liens herein provided for, and this fact shall be made to appear by affidavit, persons holding liens as herein provided shall have the right to proceed to collect the amounts which will become due for rent or advances in the same way as if the same had become due according to contract before such removal.

Lien upon supplies advanced.

Civ. '02, § 3066.

In case any one to whom such provisions, supplies, and other articles, are so advanced, shall endeavor to dispose of the same for other purposes than that for which they were advanced, or in case any person shall endeavor to make said provisions, supplies, and other articles, liable for the debts of the party to whom they were advanced, then the party advancing said provisions, supplies, and other articles, shall have the same remedies and means for enforcing his lien as are herein provided in case of advances for agricultural supplies.

Sec. 3838. Any person whose crop or crops, whether the same be severed from the freehold or not, may be seized under the provisions of any or all of the preceding Sections of this Article, shall have the right, upon entering into bond in accordance with the provisions of law now of force in regard to actions for claim and delivery of personal property, to recover immediate possession of the crop or crops so seized; but nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to affect any of the provisions of said Sections in cases where no bond is given as herein authorized.

Civ. '02, §
3072.

Section 3843. Any person arrested on mesne or final process in any civil action, as provided by Chapter I, Title VII. of the Code of Procedure, being unable or unwilling to give the bail therein provided, may petition the Court of Common Pleas of the County wherein he is confined, certifying the causes of his arrest, together with an account of his real and personal estate, with the dates of the securities wherein any part of it consists, and the deeds, notes, or vouchers relating thereto, and the names of the witnesses to the same, as far as his knowledge extends therein.

The words "on mesne or final process" are inserted in the first line of this Section, on the authority of Hurst, Purnell & Co. v. Samuels, 29 S. C. 476;

A. D. 1912,

7 S. E., 822; in order to express the provisions of the Revised Statutes of 1872 held in that case to be unrepealed.

Such imprisonment is a punishment for the misconduct of the debtor, and may be modified or discharged at the pleasure of the Legislature without affecting the contract.—Lowden v. Moses, 3 McC., 93. Defendant entitled to this benefit, although guilty of fraud in obtaining goods for the value of which he is sued.—Fleming v. Close, 3 Strob., 862. Where debtor's bail surrender him he can take the benefit of the Section.—Es parte Ridgill, 5 Rich., 427. Where defendant has been discharged from arrest after he has filed his schedule and given notice to his creditors, he is not entitled to benefit of this Section.—Clarke v. Simpson, 1 McM., 286. Where debtor files his schedule under arrest in one case he need not file another under arrest in a second case.—Banks v. Ingram, 10 Rich., 28. That the description of the property in such schedule is vague and uncertain is no ground to oppose debtor's discharge, unless he refuse to amend it.—Yeakle v. George, 12 Rich., 153. The schedule may be amended after being filed.—Bingley v. Smart, 1 McC., 29; Prescott v. Hubbell, 2 McC., 64.

Sec. 3844. Upon such petition, the Clerk is hereby required, by order or rule, to cause the petitioner to be brought before the Court, and also the creditors at whose suit such person shall stand charged, as well as all other creditors to whom he shall be indebted, to be summoned by public notice, to be given three weeks at least in some newspaper of the County wherein the debtor is confined, and if there be no newspaper published in such County, then in some newspaper of general circulation therein, personally, or by their attorney, to appear before him, at a day for that purpose appointed, at or after the expiration of the said three weeks.

Creditors to be summoned by public notice, &c.

Civ. '02, § 3073.

The Clerk may issue the order or rule.—Bettis v. Nixon, 1 Strob., 148. Three weeks' notice necessary to entitle the debtor to the benefit of this law.—Alexander v. Gibson, 1 N. & McC., 480; George v. Catherwood, 1 McC., 339. Such notice is sufficient.—Cavan v. Dunlap, Chev., 241. Such notice must be published as required.—Mordecai v. LaRissey, 1 Rich., 192. It need not be published immediately after filing petition.—Es parte Cantey, 11 Rich., 520. The day should be certainly fixed by the notice.—Bettis v. Nixon, 1 Strob., 148.

Sec. 3845. Upon the day of such appearance, if any of the creditors so summoned shall neglect or refuse to appear, upon affidavit made of the service of such rule or order, in manner aforesaid, the Clerk shall, in a summary way, examine into the matter of the said petition, and hear what shall be alleged for or against the discharge of the said petitioner; and, upon such examination, the Clerk may, and is hereby required to, administer or tender to the petitioner an oath in the following words:

Court to examine as to discharge of prisoner. To tender oath, &c. Form of oath.

Civ. '02, § 3074.

"I, (A B), do solemnly swear that the account by me delivered into this Honorable Court, with my petition, doth contain a true and full account of all my real and personal estate, debts, credits, and effects whatsoever, without exception, which I, or any person in trust for me, have, or at the time of my said petition had, or am, or was, in any respect entitled unto, in possession, remainder, or reversion; and that I have not at any time since my being sued, arrested, or imprisoned, or before, directly or indirectly, sold, leased, assigned, or otherwise disposed of, or made over, in trust for myself or otherwise, other than is mentioned in such account, any part of my lands, estate, goods, stock, money, debts, or other real or personal estate, whereby to have or expect any benefit or profit to myself, or to defraud any of my creditors to whom I am indebted; and that I will, to the utmost of my power, endeavor to collect all and singular the title deeds to my lands, together with the remainder of my goods and effects contained in my said account, and the vouchers relating to or concerning the same, wheresoever, or in whosoever hands they may be within this State, and will surrender the same to my assignee or assignees as soon as possible after my discharge: So help me God."

Debtor allowed to swear at time of discharge, nunc pro tunc.—Brevard v. Wylie, 1 Rich., 138.

Petitioner to be allowed certain property, &c., and the rest to be assigned, &c. Homestead allowed head of family.

Civ. '02, § 3075.

Sec. 3846. In case the prisoner shall take the said oath, and upon examination the Clerk shall be satisfied with the truth thereof, he shall order the lands, goods, and effects contained in the said accounts, or so much of them as may be sufficient to satisfy the debts wherewith such petitioner shall be charged, and the fees of the keeper of the jail where he shall be in custody, together with the costs of suit which shall be incurred on the suit or prosecution commenced against him, and all other costs and fees which shall arise or become due upon prosecuting and obtaining his discharge, by a short indorsement on the back of his petition, signed by the petitioner, to be assigned to some suitable person, to be selected by the Clerk, as assignee for the benefit of the plaintiff and such creditors as may appear or establish claims against the debtor: Provided, however, That if the petitioner be the head of a family, there shall be reserved to him, out of his real and personal property, a homestead, and such articles as are exempt from attachment, levy and sale under the provisions of the Constitution and laws of this State.

A. D. 1912.

Such assignment vests in the assignee all the estate capable of being conveyed, whether vested or contingent.—Cohen v. Gibbes, 1 Hill, 206. Provided the assignee accepts the trust.—Tunno v. Edwards, 8 Brev., 510; Belden v. Pate, 12 Rich., 358; Brooks v. Brooks, 12 S. C., 422. A life estate passes by such assignment.—Verdier v. Youngblood, Rich. Eq. Ca., 220. The assignee takes the property subject to all circumstances and applies it to debts in order of rank.—Mairs v. Smith, 8 McC., 52; McLeish v. Tyler, 4 Strob., 287. And subject to any set-off existing before assignment.—Lowrie v. Williamson, 3 McC., 152.

Sec. 3847. The petitioner, upon executing such assignment, (and when he shall have delivered into the hands of the assignee or assignees all and singular his title-deeds, vouchers, and effects contained in his said account, so far as in his power so to do,) shall be forthwith discharged, by order, from such suit or suits, and shall also thenceforth be acquitted and discharged of, from and against all such other of his creditors as shall have appeared or established their demands before the Court, or assignee, for all debts, contracts, and demands whatsoever.

On making assignments, &c., prisoner to be discharged.
Civ. '02, § 3076.

The applicant for discharge must have strictly pursued the prescribed proceeding.—Carpenter v. Kennedy, 1 Brev., 25. Upon such assignment the debtor shall forever afterwards be so discharged.—Wall v. The Court, 1 Bay, 434. The discharge extends to suits in any Court.—Hunt v. Simons, 2 Bay, 104. And embraces judgments already obtained.—Mayrant v. Myers, 2 Mill, 419. A judgment entered in pending suit, after discharge, will be set aside.—Crane v. Martin, 4 Rich., 251. But the discharge is limited to suits pending and to creditors who may receive a dividend.—Duncan v. Brown, 1 McC., 375. So a suing creditor may discontinue his suit before discharge to avoid its effect upon him.—Gamble v. Jenkins, 12 Rich., 692. It does not bar suit on debts accruing after discharge, nor on those not sued on, nor on those receiving no dividend.—Duncan v. Brown, 1 McC., 375. It does not divest right of property acquired by creditor by virtue of mortgage debt before it is granted.—Hamilton v. Bredeman, 12 Rich., 464. It bars arrest again on the same debt against which it was allowed.—Man v. Lowden, 4 McC., 485. It operates to discharge the debtor's bail.—Saunders v. Bobo, 2 Bail., 492; Hibler v. Hammond, 2 Strob., 105.

Sec. 3848. In case any such debtor shall neglect or refuse so to do within the time aforesaid, it shall and may be lawful for the Judge of said Court, upon application upon oath, of the assignee or assignees, again to remand the said debtor to prison there to remain, unless good cause shall be shown by him or them to the contrary, until he shall fully comply with the terms of Section 3845 of this Chapter.

Prisoner to be remanded for refusal to assign.
Civ. '02, § 3077.

Without such order of the Court the debtor cannot be rearrested in same case.—Aiken v. Moore, 1 Hill, 432.

on which he was discharged, and shall forever be disabled to take any benefit from this Chapter.

Sec. 3850. Whenever a debtor in custody under the provisions of this Chapter shall be accused by the plaintiff of fraud, or of having given an undue preference to one creditor to the prejudice of another, or of having made a false return, it shall be lawful for the Clerk of the Circuit Court, who shall hear the prisoner's application, to place the names of twenty-four persons qualified as jurors in a box, and from them draw eighteen, and to direct the Sheriff of the County to summon the said eighteen whose names shall be thus drawn to attend at the place where the prisoner is confined, and at such time as the said Clerk shall appoint; and from them shall be drawn twelve in the same manner, who shall be empanelled to try the facts required by this Chapter.

Such accusation should be made upon suggestion, stating the facts.—Fabre v. Zylstra, 2 Bay, 147; Sherman v. Barrett, 1 McM., 147; Rosser v. Moye, 1 Rich., 62; Ex parte Moffett, 11 Rich., 358. But defendant may waive it.—Baker v. Bushnell, 1 McM., 66. After prisoner has been put on trial it is too late to object that legal notice of application has not been given.—Rice v. Sims, 3 Hill, 5. If the case is complicated it should be tried by a jury, otherwise it may be tried by the Court.—Fabre v. Zylstra, 2 Bay, 147. Any fraudulent device to swindle creditors is such a fraud.—Hyams v. Valentine, 4 Strob., 408. Fraudulent removal of goods bars the benefit of the Act.—Wiley v. Lawson, 7 Rich., 152; Branden v. Gowing, 7 Rich., 459. But when they are afterwards recovered by the creditors it does not.—Mairs v. Smith, Harp. 128. Fraud in contracting debt does not so bar.—Fleming v. Close, 3 Strob., 362. After suggestion of fraud has been filed, applicant cannot withdraw the application for discharge.—Sherman v. Barrett, 1 McM., 147. Unless he pay the debt for which he is arrested and costs.—Sleeper v. Cohen, 12 Rich., 112. Such preference does not deprive the prisoner of the benefit of the Act, unless it be fraudulent.—Stover v. Duren, 2 McC., 266; Creyton v. Dickerson, 3 McC., 438; Dobson v. Teasdale, 4 McC., 81; Bulwinkle v. Gaube, 5 Rich., 286. The question of undue preference must be decided by the jury.—Weed v. Evans, 2 Speer, 232. Conviction of a false return prevents the discharge of the prisoner.—Dixon v. Vanezara, 1 McC., 373; McElmoyle v. Florence, 2 McC., 24. Schedule may be amended at trial, if it appear that the omissions in it arose from ignorance, inadvertence or mistake, and it will not surprise or delay.—Sherman v. Barrett, 1 McM., 147; Craig v. Pinson, 2 Speer, 176. Finding that an assignment of some of his property, mentioned in schedule of defendant, was fraudulent, was not conviction of false return.—Cavan v. Dunlap Chev., 241. But omission of such property altogether does make the return false.—Brandon v. Rogers, 10 Rich., 9. Clerk has the right to select the jury.—Rice v. Sims, 3 Hill, 5. And his discretion in regard to the notice and time of trial must govern.—Ib. Plaintiff cannot add new suggestions against the schedule after the issue has been made up.—Bentley v. Page, 2 McM., 52; Morein v. Solomons, 7 Rich., 97. The question of continuance is addressed to the discretion of the Clerk.—Bentley v. Page, 2 McM., 52. The verdict of "not guilty" finds the schedule to be true.—Rice v. Sims, 3 Hill, 5. The verdict of "guilty generally" on various charges of fraud is sufficient.—Hyams v. Valentine, 4 Strob., 408.

Sec. 3851. If, from the eighteen persons so summoned, twelve cannot, from any cause, be empanelled, then the said Clerk is authorized to complete that number from the other freeholders originally selected.

Sec. 3852. The freeholders so summoned shall be liable to the same objection, to be made by either party in the case, which may be made to jurors in the Court of Common Pleas, and shall be liable to the same for non-attendance without sufficient cause to which jurors are for non-attendance at the Courts, the said fines to be imposed by the Court of Common Pleas of the County; and it shall be the duty of the Clerk to return to the said Court the names of the freeholders who shall so neglect to attend, to be proceeded against as in the case of non-attending jurors.

Liability for non-attendance of jurors.

Civ. '02, § 3081.

Sec. 3853. In case exceptions be taken to any order or ruling of the Clerk while discharging the duties imposed by this Chapter, the issues therein may be summarily heard and tried by the Judge of the Circuit, or by any Circuit Judge then holding the Courts in such Circuit, or if there be no Judge within such Circuit, by any other Circuit Judge named in the notice for such hearing.

Issues on exceptions to Clerk's rulings to be summarily heard by Judge.

Civ. '02, § 3082.

Sec. 3854. The Clerk who may hear and determine the application of a debtor for the benefit of the provisions of this Chapter, shall, if the same be unlitigated, be entitled to receive the sum of two dollars out of the property that may be assigned, as a compensation for his services; and, whenever the same is litigated, the said Clerk shall be entitled to receive the sum of four dollars as a compensation for his services, out of the property of the debtor, if the final decision be against him; but if it be in his favor, then the said sum shall be paid by the plaintiff.

Civ. '02, § 3083.

Sec. 3855. The Sheriff shall receive the sum of five dollars as a compensation for summoning the said freeholders, to be paid out of the property of the debtor, if his application be refused, and, if granted, to be paid by the plaintiff.

Fees allowed Sheriff.

Civ. '02, § 3084.

Sec. 3856. If the verdict of the jury aforesaid be in favor of the debtor, and the plaintiff should appeal, the debtor shall be entitled to be discharged from confinement, on his giving bond and sufficient sureties to the plaintiff, to be forthcoming and to abide by the decision of the Supreme Court; and if the said appeal shall be determined against the debtor, and he be not surrendered (which the surety is hereby authorized to do) before the first day of the Circuit Court next succeeding the determination of such appeal; then the Clerk of the Court shall, on the application of the plaintiff or his agent, forthwith issue an order on the said bond against the prisoner and his sureties, as in cases of estreated recognizances; but in case the said prisoner should appear, or be surrendered, as aforesaid, then the said Clerk shall forthwith proceed with the case as provided in the preceding Sections.

No appeal lies except from such verdict of jury.—Martin v. Stribling, 3 Speer, 65. Notice of such appeal may be given after judgment on verdict.—Bulwinkle v. Grube, 5 Rich., 286. Upon judgment granting his discharge the prisoner is entitled to go at large, pending appeal.—Baker v. Bushnell, 1 McM., 272; Bulwinkle v. Grube, 5 Rich., 286. But upon renewal of appeal he must return to prison or forfeit his right to discharge.—Id.

Creditors allowed to examine applicants for discharge. Penalty for refusal to answer.

Civ. '02, § 3086.

Sec. 3857. It shall and may be lawful for the creditor or creditors of any person applying for the benefit of this Chapter, either in person or by attorney, to examine and cross-examine such applicant, on oath, in the presence of the Judge, or the Clerk of the Court, before whom he shall move for his discharge from imprisonment, touching the truth of his schedule, and touching the nature and extent of his property, rights, and credits, liable to be assigned for the benefit of his creditors. And the refusal of any such applicant to answer, fully and directly, all or any proper questions put to him in the course of such examination, shall prevent his discharge, if otherwise entitled thereto, until he shall have fully answered the same.

Rosser v. Moye, 1 Rich., 62; Fleming v. Close, 3 Strob., 362. Such examination by the creditor may be followed by his filing suggestions of facts to be tried by the jury.—Ex parte McDonald, 13 Rich., 250.

Sec. 3858. If, on such examination, it should appear that he has kept books, in relation to his trade, profession, or occupation, he shall be required to produce the same, if in his possession or power; and, on failure to do so, he shall be deprived of his discharge until he shall produce the same.

Submission of issues to jury, &c.

Civ. '02, § 3088.

Sec. 3859. Nothing contained in this Chapter shall be construed to deprive a judge, sitting in open Court, of the power to submit to the jury already empanelled all issues arising under Section 3850 of this Chapter, in the same manner as is now practiced; but in all cases where the plaintiff shall appeal, the defendant shall be entitled to his enlargement, pending the appeal, on the terms prescribed in Section 3856 of this Chapter.

Sec. 3860. In all cases where a debtor applies for his discharge, the Judge, or Clerk of the Court, before whom the application shall be made, shall not discharge him from the confinement until the property contained in his schedule is produced and delivered to the assignee, if it be, or has been, within the power of the debtor to deliver the same since the time of his arrest.

No discharge to be granted until the delivery of property to assignee.

Civ. '02, § 3089.

It is not in power of debtor to deliver property removed to another State, and he must be discharged unless it was fraudulently removed.—Martin v. Stribling, 2 Speer, 65.

Sec. 3861. Every debtor arrested and held in the custody of the Sheriff, under the provisions of this Chapter, shall be maintained in the common jail at the expense and charge of the person causing the arrest. And if such charges are not paid to the keeper of the jail weekly, in advance, the Clerk or Judge may, upon proper evidence thereof, direct that such debtor be released from further custody.

Expenses of imprisonment to be paid weekly in advance by plaintiff, or debtor discharged.

Civ. '02, § 3090.

The charges for keeping such debtor in the common jail shall be the same as are allowed by law for dieting prisoners confined under process in the Court of Sessions; and if the plaintiff recover judgment against the debtor, or an assignment of his effects be made as herein provided, such charges may be recovered as disbursements in the action, or paid out of the estate assigned, before any dividend is declared.

In every civil action commenced or prosecuted in the Courts of record in this State (except cases in chancery) the attorneys of plaintiff or defendant shall be entitled to recover costs and disbursements of the adverse party, as prescribed in this Chapter, such costs to be allowed as of course to the attorneys of plaintiff or defendant, and all officers of the Court thereto entitled, accordingly as the action may terminate, and to be inserted in the judgment against the losing party.
